

We have no desire to write at length about "ourselves" and our policy.

The "DAILY NEWS" stands for, precisely, on all fours, what the "Taimadu" stands for. We stand and work for peaceful and progressive realization of Government of the people by the people and for the people under the aegis of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore. In respect of All-India, we work and stand for the achievement of Independence of India by peaceful and legitimate means.

We shall try to make the "Daily News" not only a mirror of public opinion but also an echo of people's voice as far as it lies in our power to do so. It shall also be our duty to suggest and indicate the lines of popular progress on non-communal, non-class, nationalistic lines.

With malice to none and charity to all, and without fear or favour, we propose to discharge our duties and responsibilities as fair and impartial critics of public questions and public policies, in the columns of the "Daily News" with an eye only to the well-being of the people of all classes and communities.

We are hopeful of securing a position of power and influence for the "Daily News" in the journalistic world of India in general, and Mysore in particular. While paying our tribute of admiration and homage to the daily journals of Madras and other cities, we are sure that there is something which we can usefully contribute in our humble and unpretentious way to education and enlightenment of the State and the people of Mysore.

The financial resources being very slender, we are not able to present all that is in our mind and heart. We shall only do our duty to-day and tomorrow. But we assure our readers that the "Daily News" will keep step by step with the movement that it would take to the hands of its that in the discharge of the responsible duties that devolve on you, you are animated by high and honourable ideals, I have every reason to hope that you will render in the future even greater service to the people and the State. One writer calls the Press the "People's University" and another the "World's Cyclopaedia of Life"; it is in fact an important educator of mankind, and in its direction the essential principle to be borne in mind is that the truth in all its simplicity and fulness should prevail.

This is indeed a great and glorious message worthy of being preserved by every journalist as a priceless treasure. We hope that this will serve as a beacon-light to us and illumine our path which is beset with dark difficulties.

May God bless the "Daily News" and its readers!

We offer our sincere and heartfelt congratulations to the Mysore Congress on the cent-per-cent success that it has achieved in the Bangalore City Municipal Elections that were held on 4th instant. The ratepayers of the City of Bangalore also deserve very warm congratulations on the right choice they have made. Nor can we ignore and omit mentioning the good humour of the defeated candidates, some of whom are ex-Presidents and Vice-Presidents having rendered valuable services to the Municipality. They had to bow to the inevitable, in spite of themselves. They were out of time and out of current. The popular awakening and enlightenment that has stamped its hallmark on the Congress organisation could not recognise those who stood by themselves and for themselves. This remarkable success is a great testimony to the regard and affection in which the Congress and its workers are held by the ratepayers of Bangalore. People who declared from house tops that Mysore Congress is dying and is dead have to revise their views and learn a new lesson. The Mysore Congress is a progressive force in our country and none can ignore its influence. We hope the Government will, in a statesman-like manner see the things in their proper perspective and adjust their policies in the interests of the people and the State. The Mysore Congress is anxious to shake hands with the Government, if there is a reciprocal feeling on the part of the authorities. As Mr. D. V. Gundappa would put it, let us shake hands and not shake our fists.

Mysore Congress President's Message

Mysore Congress President's Message

Mr. K. T. Bhaskar Iyengar, President of the Mysore Congress, in a message to Mr. P. R. Ramaiya, Proprietor, 'Tainadu' says thus:

It gives me great pleasure to learn that you are publishing a new daily in English. A high class English daily newspaper has been a long felt want in the State and I am glad we shall have one under your able management. I send my heartiest congratulations to you and to Mr. P. B. Srinivasan, the talented Editor of Tainadu.

I wish the 'Daily News' a long life of service to the country."

Mr. K. T. Bhashyam
congratulates Bangalore

(From Our Correspondent)

Mysore, Dec. 7

For the 'unparalleled success' of the Mysore Congress in the Bangalore Municipal Elections, Mr. K. T. Bhashyam, President of the Mysore Congress, congratulates the people of Bangalore in a press statement. He says:

"The Mysore Congress is deeply grateful to the people of Bangalore City in securing them unparalleled success in the Municipal elections and great credit is due to the volunteers, children, youth, lavandars, leaders and workers of every division, authorities and the police. Special thanks are due to the 'Tainadu' and 'Visvakarnataka' for the splendid support they gave. The public of Bangalore have covered themselves with glory. I humbly congratulate them and also the Congress candidates everyone of whom succeeded. The result proves the remarkable support of people to Mysore Congress and also the failure of congress candidates elsewhere is due to official interference and I suggest to Government to keep their hands off the general elections, otherwise, popular indignation is certain to grow resulting in another struggle. It is now the duty of the Government to respect the popular verdict in Bangalore and Mysore and befriend Congress and cease repression and establish peace and harmony in public life."

I am not a smoker, either habitual or occasional. But I like smokers and their company. Some are good men and true, who smoke. They are good mixers. They puff off their biggest consumption is of cigarettes and we must have smoked lots and lots of them and we familiarly discussed the whole universe which is the newspapers' province."

I am not a smoker, either habitual or occasional. But I like smokers and their company. Some are good men and true, who smoke. They are good cures. They puff off their cigars as they puff off smoke. The biggest consumption is of cigarettes and we must have smoked lots and lots of them as we familiarly discussed the whole universe which the newspapers' province."

They carry their burdens easily and lightly. Be he a premier, a cabinet minister or a mayor, the smoker with his pipe in his mouth walks on unconcernedly and does his duty without fear or favour. When his duty is over, he throws away his mantle as he throws away his stumps.

Lord Baldwin, ex-Premier of England, with a pipe in his mouth, with supreme unconcern, managed the exit of a king with the least disturbance to himself and to the people at large. That is a typical smoker.

We have in Mr. Churchill, the present Premier of England, a smoker with grit and determination. With great skill, he has managed to see that Hitler's Blitzkrieg passed off like a puff of smoke over the skies of England. I wish Hitler were a smoker. He would have had some commonsense and not dragged the world into a war of destruction, doing good neither to himself nor to others.

Some journalists are good smokers and good mixers too. Smoke is the cement which binds one journalist to another and binds him to the world at large. A journalist's work partakes of the nature of smoke and he dashes off something to-day which passes off like a puff of smoke, leaving no trace behind. I am told in the recent conference of editors at Delhi, hundreds of cigarettes were consumed. The correspondent of the "National Herald" has recorded the following observation in his diary:— "Whenever Journalists meet, the error, Horniman made amendments and gave a large tin of cigarettes to Raghavan. He then proceeded smoking joyfully into the small hours of the morning.

"Cent per Cent Success for the Congress", "Glorious Victory!" These are the words that are passing from mouth to mouth in the streets of Bangalore to-day. There is unprecedented jubilation all over the city. The Congress leaders themselves never expected this exceptional success. All glory to Bangalore. Bravo Bangalore !!

Mr. V. Tilea, former Rumanian Minister in London, who was 'recalled' in July but refused to go and retired to Oxford, asks people "not to judge the peaceful freedom-loving Rumanian nation by shameful horrors from which every human being must shrink".

Study of Law

Sir Mirza M. Ismail
Address

Belgaum, Dec. 7.—Addressing the students of Raja Lakhamagouda College, Belgaum, Sir Mirza M. Ismail, the Dewan of Mysore, said:—

“People are apt to look upon the study of Law as a merely a vocational value preparation for admission to the practice of Law. This is only a mistaken view. One only to recall the fact that in England, for example, the Court which trains Bar students in the institutions which are the factors in the study of Law at the Universities of the United Kingdom upon legal studies as compared in value in respect to other disciplines with subjects like Mathematics, Science, History and Economics. A great deal has said that “Law is one of the first and noblest of the sciences; a science which more to quicken and invigilate the understanding than the other kinds of learning together.” We may not be prepared to go so far with them as to put Law above other branches of learning as an instrument for sharpening the faculties, but we can have no hesitation in recognising the large element of truth in the dictum. One has only to look of that vast and intricate of Law associated with the, to recall the mental agility necessary to deal with the principles and practice of the Law of Evidence, and the intricacies of the Law of Equity realise how powerful an instrument for mental discipline sharpening of the faculties studies can be. Therefore, studies rightly occupy a high place among the branches of learning in which a student graduate in the British Universities.

The Rule of Law

The rule of Law which is a fundamental feature of a civilised society thus owes a great deal to the work of lawyers, the jurists and as legal practitioners. The members of the legal profession also play in their character of citizens a very important part in the public life of the country by participating in its political activities. Lawyers have always played a prominent part in the political affairs of the country, and a number of them in recent years occupied the highest posts in the service of the Crown. There is no need to believe that the future of this country or any other will show any marked improvement in this respect although one of other professions are so to be taking a more prominent part in politics than was the case some time ago. Political Law are so closely allied to the natural and applied Law that the members of the legal profession should enjoy a large place in the councils of the country.

Indian Jewellery Mart Case

Fifteen charge-sheets filed
Bangalore, Dec. 8.—The Crime Branch Police has filed 15 charge-sheets in the City Magistrate's Court against C. Venkatasubba Setty and C. Suryanarayana Setty, Proprietors of the Indian Jewellery Mart Bangalore, and P. Venkataiah, B. Narayana Rao, A. Gopala Modaliar, A.S. Venkatesha Iyer and R. Basappa, employees of the said Mart, for offences under sections 420 and 109 I.P.C.

Yesterday afternoon, the accused were produced before the City Magistrate and were later released on bail.

It is understood a special court will be appointed to enquire into the case.

M.L.A.'s Sentenced

A.P. Gorakhpur, Dec. 7.—Thakur Sinhasan Singh, Thakur Praghuwaj Singh and Ramdhari Pandey, M.L.A.'s of U.P., were sentenced to three months simple imprisonment each in connection with Satyagraha.

At the same time it is well that the members of the legal profession who enter politics should remember always their special allegiance to Law and Order. While they are entitled to exercise all the rights of citizens to bring about suitable modifications in the political practice and structure which changing conditions may demand, they should always remember Burke's warning, “How weary a step do those take who endeavour to make out of a great mass a true political personality.” It is not inappropriate that in the present context I should recall the view that was expressed at the time of the French Revolution that a very great proportion of the National Assembly was composed of practitioners in Law, and all that followed could be ascribed to this fact.

Sense of Comradeship

The life of the community is much wider than the exercise of a profession, the making of laws, and the carrying on of the government of the country. The great values of life are to be found in the quiet pursuit of art, cultivation of personal relationships, and above all, in the practice of religion. While I hope that those of you that are marked by exceptional gifts of talents and character will rise high in the profession and occupy places of prominence and service in the public life of the country, every one of you should live the full and many sided life of a private citizen, whose pursuit of the great values of life constitutes the essence of civilised life. Cultivate a sense of comradeship, and make yourselves members of clubs and other groups where greater intimacy is possible than in large organizations, and seek for yourselves in quietness and thought the greater spiritual values that we associate with the great religions of our country.

The Village School Master

He can Make or Mar the Village

“We talk very lightly of Indian progress, not always fully cognisant that Indian Progress means in the main, the Progress of the Indian peasant. The Progress of the Indian peasant depends, in no small measure, on the intelligence, equipment and sense of responsibility which are to be found in the Village School teacher. He can make or mar the Village, and in doing so he can help the cause of Indian Progress or hamper it said Sir Mirza M. Ismail, Dewan of Mysore, in his speech on the occasion of the opening of the Kannada Primary Teachers Training College, Belgaum. In his speech, he said:—

“It is not enough to find a building, the equipment and the easily available supply of children for a primary school. Everything hinges upon the personality the enthusiasm, and the qualifications of the teacher, and this is especially so in a country like ours where the one-teacher school is so common. We have experienced in our own State, and I am sure your experience is not quite different from ours, great difficulty in getting trained teachers for our primary schools. This lack of qualified teachers is one of the chief causes that account for the great wastage during the four years which are necessary for ensuring literacy. Therefore, you have done well in starting this Institution, and I have no doubt its personnel, equipment, curricula and methods of study are all calculated to turn out thoroughly well-qualified teachers for the primary schools.

“Some of the teachers that leave this Institution will no doubt find their work in towns, but by far the larger number will undoubtedly have to work in village schools. I trust, therefore, that the authorities of this Institution will make every effort to give the teachers what is usually called a ‘rural bias.’ They have not merely to train children whose subsequent lives will mostly be spent in villages, but a primary school teacher will also have to act as the guide philosopher and friend of the villagers. In a number of villages the primary school teacher will probably be one of the few, if not the only person, with any claim to education. On him will devolve the responsibility of helping the village community understand and solve a number of its problems, social and economic. A right-minded teacher can do a great deal to raise the quality of life in a village, but unhappily, as we know only too well, he can also be an active fomenter of trouble and party strife in villages.

Newspapers and official Intervention

Task of Advisory Committees

The ‘Amrit Bazar Patrika’, noticing the speech of Mr. A. A. Hayles, at the Mysore Conference, writes thus:—

Mr. A. A. Hayles, editor of the ‘Madras Mail’ put it in a nutshell when, opening the first Mysore Journalists Conference on Sunday last, he said that “there has been much stupid withholding of news, much unnecessary suspicion of the intentions and purposes of newspapers.” The main task of the Advisory Committees of representatives of the Press in Delhi and provincial centres—recently constituted as a result of the efforts of the Indian section of the Indian and Eastern Newspaper Society—will be to guard against such senseless and exasperating official intervention. We regret, however, to have to say that not all Provincial Governments have so far shown any great inclination to consult these committees on matters affecting the Press. The fact is that Red Tape has never been noted for its elasticity and there may still be officials in high places who feel that recent rescission of an objectionable order on the Press is an unjustifiable encroachment on their rights.

What, after all, is the broad principle according to which a statement in the Press is judged? Is there any infallible method which, when applied by official experts, can establish beyond doubt that it is a “prejudicial” one? Does it depend on who writes, or on the idea he expresses, or on the attitude of the listeners? These are important questions—for in these is involved the big problem of freedom of expression, the greatest of the civil liberties on which democracy depends. We are reminded of a story in this connection.

The following extract from an article was placed by an American professor before a number of persons who were asked whether they identified the writer and whether they agreed with the views expressed: “The country, with its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing Government, they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it, or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it.” After a grave perusal of the statement, nearly all of them replied that it could have come only from Lenin or Stalin and that they strongly disagreed with it. When the professor told them that Abraham Lincoln was the ‘culprit’ they became thoughtful and admitted that of course it was perfectly true! One wonders how a similar statement in the Press would react on the Bengal Government.

‘THE IDEAL PAPER’

Mr. D.V. GUNDAPPA'S DREAM

In his masterly address at the Mysore State Journalists' conference, as its President, Mr. D.V. Gundappa gave a picture of ‘The Ideal Paper.’ Every journalist has been dreaming of such a paper. We also cannot imagine when if ever the day will come that is propitious for the birth of a newspaper of that kind. But, all the same, it is worthwhile to have an ideal before us. This is what Mr. D.V. Gundappa is dreaming of:—

“I sometimes dream of a type of newspaper which leaves no room whatsoever for any suspicion of partisanship or private interest of any kind, and is a pure aid to intelligence. Its reporters and writers, like good civil servants, belong to no party. They recognise no claim upon their loyalty which is inconsistent with their loyalty to the country and to humanity. They take every care humanly possible to guard themselves against the workings of subconscious bias and temperamental preference. They find their editor first inside of themselves: their paper is conscience become articulate and seeking converse with other consciences. Its record of news will all be impersonal or photographically objective; and its budget of views will all be ‘Personal’ and frankly signed in large part. Its reports will not be tendentious; and its editor need not regard himself as under an obligation to discover or imagine a theme for discourse every day. There need be no such thing as a leading article at all, the editor being content to write over his signature, and that only when he has some thing to say, like any contributor. Its space will be available to everybody who has anything to submit for the consideration of the public, irrespective of the nature of his doctrine or his point of view. The only condition, apart from questions of the economy of the paper's space and resources, is that the writing should be decent and responsible and not injurious to the integrity and harmony of civil life; and to judge of this will be the main responsibility of the editor. Would not such a paper go as far as is humanly possible for any towards the ideal of eliminating bias and partisanship and helping the public to see the truth? In our quest for the truth, what justice of things?”

BRILLIANT SUCCESS in MYSORE

Birth of a Rupee

Fascinating Story Told in
"Making Money"

(Contributed)

The fascinating story of the coining of rupees has been brought to the screen in "Making Money", Famous Cine Laboratory's splendid documentary film which is now being shown throughout India.

Taken in His Majesty's Mint in Bombay, the film depicts all the processes that go to the production of the gleaming silver coins on which the country's monetary system is based. Skilled workmen are shown tending ingenious machines and busy among piles of silver and coins that a millionaire might envy.

The story of the rupee begins when ingots of silver and other alloy metals are placed in oil-fired furnaces to be heated white-hot until the metal runs like water. This precious liquid is poured into moulds to emerge again as silver bars. Then great rollers flatten the bars until they are the thickness of rupees, razor-sharp punches cut out the round blanks and thudding pressed put on the impressions and the milled edge.

All these spectacular operations and many more smaller but equally important processes are features in the film. "Making Money", however, does not stop when the rupees leave the Mint. It follows them in their travels, shows their part in rearing great buildings, in running the transport service, in rewarding the industrial magnate and the village craftsman.

Beautifully photographed, the film is technically among the best produced in India. It is available with commentaries in English, Hindustani, Bengali, Tamil and Telugu.

Congress & Country Synonymous

Mr. K. T. Bhashyam on Mysore City's Victory

Special thanks to Mysore Voters

Bangalore, Dec. 8

Mr. K. T. Bhashyam Iyengar, the President of the Mysore Congress in a statement to the press says thus:

I tender my grateful thanks to the people of Mysore City for securing such a tremendous victory for the Mysore Congress, at the elections held yesterday. They have once again risen to great heights and maintained their proud record of 1938.

Bangalore and Mysore Cities have given a crushing reply to those who accuse the Congress as consisting of a few unimportant persons. I hope that now at least all will realise that the Congress and the Country are synonymous if not identical.

Once again, on behalf of the Mysore Congress I tender my grateful thanks to the people of this City. I congratulate the successful candidates, the voters who contributed to our success, not forgetting the little boys and girls whose love and enthusiasm for the Congress were unbounded.

My special Congratulations to Srimathi P. Kameswaramma the first elected lady councillor for Mysore City.

M.N. Roy Indicts Congress

"This is India's War"

A.P. Nagpur, Dec. 8. "From the larger international as also from our particular national interest we cannot be indifferent to this war. It is not England's war; it is India's war and it must be won," said Mr. M.N. Roy, addressing a public meeting yesterday night under the presidency of Dr. M.N. Khare. If Britain won the war, the status quo of India would be maintained and perhaps there would be some improvement. At any rate nothing could be lost, added Mr. Roy. Criticising the Congress demand for National Government and the rejection of the offer of Viceroy's Executive Council, he said, if Congress co-operated with the British Government in the expansion of the Executive Council, Government would have been compelled to come to an agreement with popular representatives.

Daily News

Bangalore City—Dec 9, 1940.

A NEW APPROACH NEEDED

We are glad to note that another earnest attempt is being made to bring about a happy understanding in India between various political parties and Government. Though it is not known for what purpose Mr. Jayakar is going to Delhi, newspapermen guess that it is to discuss the political situation with the Viceroy. Mr. Jayakar has, along with Sir T.B. Sapru played a considerable part in the recent political history of India by attempting to bring about an understanding between Government and Congress. Whatever may be the view of Col. Amery and his henchmen, the political situation in India is not one which permits anybody to sit complacently with folded hands. The spectacle of hundreds of Satyagrahis of name and fame marching into jails with anti-war slogans on their lips, is not one which could cheer and comfort Indians, to whatever political persuasions they may belong. We are happy to note that Mr. Fazlul Haq, the Bengal Premier, is addressing Mr. Jinnah to make a fresh move with a view to negotiating with Congress.

In the same connection, 'The Times' in a leading article says, 'a new approach to the Indian problem is needed today.' The paper adds, "On our part there should be fuller explanation of concessions which have been offered and interpretation should not again have to wait until Indian politicians have refused concessions which may not have been fully explained to them. It is also possible that the British official attitude in India towards proposed concessions have been covered by assumption that Indian communal problem is insoluble."

To some extent it is true that there is an assumption on the part of British officials that the Indian communal problem is insoluble.

We wish to state, that time and again, propping up of this communal problem, betrays lack of correct appreciation and want of sympathy to India. The only practical solution was offered by Mr. C. Rajagopalachari when he suggested the formation of a National Government at the Centre responsible to the legislature. The Whitehall and New Delhi rejected this solution and plunged the country into Satyagraha. The situation in India has become intolerable and there cannot be allowed to go on at this rate. Mahatma Gandhi a staunch friend of Britain. He wants justice both to India and Britain. But, Col. Amery and his tribe, have refused to see the truth though they have eyes to see it. Before the situation in India deteriorates, we hope the British public will realise the true state of affairs in this country and direct the Secretary of State to come to terms with Mahatma Gandhi, who alone has in India the power to deliver goods. Will the British press educate the British public in the matter?

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

It was our good fortune yesterday to congratulate Mysore Congress on its cent per cent success in the Bangalore Municipal Elections. We also congratulated the Bangalore ratepayers. It has fallen to our good luck today to congratulate Mysore Congress again on its glorious success in the city of Mysore. The Garden city of Mysore has not lagged behind Bangalore, the citadel of political progress. We heartily congratulate the successful congress candidates and the devoted ratepayers of Mysore. They have showered their affection and esteem on Mysore Congress in an unbounded measure. Our sincere congratulations to Srirami P. Kameswaramma also, who, though an independent candidate we are sure, will fall in line with Congress in the Municipal Council. She is a patriotic lady, hailing from Andhra, with a record of service to the nation. In Mysore, she has been taking her due share in the civic activities of the town.

All over India, this remarkable success of Mysore Congress will resound with glory. In a sense, the Mysore Congress is part and parcel of the great Indian National Congress, and the feeling of kinship is genuine and natural.

In the light of these results, we hope the authorities will have a correct appreciation of popular feeling towards Mysore Congress. Mysore Congress has, in fact, been an idol of the people of Mysore who adore it with all the devotion at their command. We repeat what we wrote yesterday that the opportune time has come for Mysore Government to note the change that has come over the public life of the country. Let no side issues detract them from the vital issue which is crying for a solution from them. We request Government to reciprocate the feelings of the people in respect of their attitude towards the Mysore Congress.

May we hope, the authorities will seize this golden opportunity, to deliver justice to, and deliver operation of, the Premier, also both as the premier (Chief Minister of the State)

More Good Wishes

"A Red Letter Day"

Mr. K. Chengalaraya Reddy, sending his good wishes to 'Daily News' writes:—

I rejoice to learn that Sri P.R. Ramaiya, Founder and Proprietor of 'Tainadu' which occupies such a foremost place in the Press of today has decided to start an English Daily in Bangalore City. An English Daily for the Mysore State has been a long-felt want and Sri P. R. Ramaiya deserves the warmest congratulations and thanks of the public of the State for having fulfilled such a want. It is a matter of great significance that the announcement of publication of the Daily has been made on a red-letter day in the history of Mysore. The cent per cent success of the Mysore Congress in the Bangalore City Municipal elections is, I think, a case of breaking all previous records in parliamentary elections in India. I am almost tempted to say that the announcement of the starting of the paper has been made on an auspicious day when the people of Bangalore City have shown their affection to and confidence in the Mysore Congress in such an abounding and unprecedented manner. I am sure the "Daily News" will win the affection and confidence of the public of Mysore in a similar manner.

We are living in a very critical period in the history of the world. A terrible war is raging in many parts of the globe and Satyagraha in British India under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi is being conducted with a brilliance and effect all its own and we in Mysore have our own problems and programmes of action which are fraught with far-reaching consequences. At a time like this, it is the duty of the people of Mysore and, may I also say, the Government of Mysore, to act in a manner which is conducive to the best and permanent interest of the State. The election results announced today show without a shadow of doubt which way the wind is blowing. The Congress stands for Res. ponsible Government under the aegis of His Highness the Maharaja. The people stand solidly behind the Congress. I hope that the Government will draw from this the only inference that there can be no contentment in the country till Responsible Government is established.

"TAINADU" has laboured greatly and nobly for the vindication of fundamental rights of citizenship and for the fulfilment of the cherished ideal of the people of Mysore. It has also not been found wanting in the least degree in the matter of loyalty to the throne in Mysore. It is continuing its services in the above directions in an exemplary manner. It is, therefore, that I welcome the starting of the English Daily paper, 'Daily

A PUFF OF SMOKE

News comes from Mysore that all the Congress Candidates have scored victory in the Municipal Elections held yesterday. The Garden City of Mysore has repeated the performance of the City of Beans. Some people with imagination regard the Cities of Bangalore and Mysore, as the two eyes of the State. It is the practice of doctors to examine the patients by looking into their eyes. I think our Dr. Royan, the mayor of the City of Bangalore, will certify the health of the State to be sound. Any way, the rate-payers of the Cities of Bangalore and Mysore have contributed a twinglory to the State.

At the time I received the result of Mysore City Elections, a friend of mine waxed eloquent and said, "The success was due to the effective propagandistic methods and slogans adopted by Mysore Congress". I said, "Very Good". He piled the defeated candidates who were not effective in their propaganda. I do not agree with my friend. They did house-to-house propaganda, morning, noon, evening and night. I know they denied themselves sleep and made a pilgrimage to their voters from house-to-house. But their propaganda was of whispers, while the Congress spoke through the loud-speaker. Men, women and children listened to this new music of elections and on the day of reckoning, the Congress loud-speaker with the van, wheeled round the town with reverberating music. Young children added to the chorus, waving tiny national flags. From street-to-street these urchins marched with the slogan, "ಜನತೆ ಒಂದೇ, ಸರ್ಕಾರ ಬೇರೆ". This slogan caught the imagination of the ratepayers and they marched to the Polling Booths and recorded their votes in favour of Congress.

I was speaking of slogans. These are days of slogans. You may even say this is an age of Slogans. Hitler has a slogan, Mussolini has a slogan, Stalin has a slogan and Churchill has a slogan. Who has not in British India there are war-slogans and anti-war slogans. War sloganists enjoy official hospitality and anti-war sloganists get into jails.

What is a slogan? The Oxford Dictionary says, "Highland war-cry; Party cry, watch-word, motto." Perhaps the best synonym would be "catch-word". Slogan then is a political catch-word. These slogans catch the imagination of the man in the street. High-brows may have contempt for these slogans and catch words. They may think that these slogans degrade humanity. But the man in the street thinks otherwise.

Mahatma Gandhi has made a request to the public of Bombay to revise their sporting code and to erase from it communal matches. This is a timely word of advice. Enough mischief has been done by having Hindu, Parsee, Muslim and other communal eleven. By such divisions, unsportsmanlike things have happened in the past. Let atleast the sporting field of life be untouched by the communal spirit. It is time that communal taints are banished from the sporting world.

Communal minded people are least sportive. Did not Mr. Mohamed Ali Jinnah reject the sporting offer of C. R. ? Where is sport in communalism?

News' by the same management. I tender my heartiest congratulations to Shris P. R. Ramaiya and P. B. Sreenivasan on their new venture and wish it every success.

Mr. K. R. Subbannachar, M. L. C. writes from Holenarasipur:—

I am glad to hear of your decision to start a daily paper in English. I wish you every success in your new enterprise. My compliments to Mr. Srinivasan.

Mr. W. H. Hanumanthappa writes:—

I wish all success to your noble attempt in publishing an English Daily (Daily News). The publication of such a paper was keenly felt all these years. Mysore must be proud of welcoming such a Daily. May God help you in this concern.

Mr. H. Sreenivasa Jois writes from Chitaldrug:—

It is with great pleasure that I learn about your new enterprise in the matter of starting an English Daily and I wish you great success in the same.

Mr. K. Hanumanthappa, Municipal Councillor and Member, Mysore Congress Working Committee writes:—

I read in 'Tainadu' of 6th instant that you are starting an English Daily by name 'Daily News' and the cent per cent success of the Mysore Congress in the Bangalore City Municipal elections. These two items of news vied with each other in making my heart throb with joy. I cordially welcome your laudable effort and pray for a brilliant, patriotic, and prosperous career for your new "hopeful" 'Daily News'.

Mr. B. Subbiah, Municipal Councillor writes:—

The news that you are starting an English Daily by name Daily News from the 8th instant has created immense joy in me. An English local daily paper was long needed for Bangalore. I wish every success for your paper

Large Haul of Sovereigns

Coins Confiscated

The Bombay Customs authorities have seized gold sovereigns worth over Rs 1,27,000 from an Arab country craft due to leave port shortly. The coins have been confiscated on the suspicion that there was an attempt to smuggle them out of India.

The export of gold and silver coins from India has been prohibited under the Defence of India rules.

The seizure was made by the rummaging staff of the Customs, who thoroughly searched an Arab country craft anchored in the harbour and was due to leave Bombay shortly. The cargo lying in the vessel was scrutinised and it is stated the officers discovered concealed in the sides of the vessel 4,507 gold sovereigns.

Oriasa M.L.A.'s Arrested and Sentenced

A.P. Cunnack, Dec-7. Shris Sadasub Tripathy M.L.A. and Radhachandrabha M.L.A. (Oriasa) both were sentenced under the Defence of India Rules to one year's simple imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 100, in default to one month's further imprisonment. The former was arrested for shouting anti-war slogans and the latter for altering Satyagraha.

OUR NEW DELHI LETTER

Recent Political Developments

(From our special correspondent)

New Delhi, Dec. 5

New Delhi is busy with conferences—jute, Indo-Burma trade, handloom industry and various other matters. Still the thought uppermost in the public mind is the political situation which is steadily deteriorating from day to day. The only answer which one gets from official circles is that the situation has been forced upon them and that the Government cannot shirk its primary duty to maintain law and order. The only silver lining to the cloud so far as one can see is that a commendable feeling of restraint is being shown. The desire of Mahatma Gandhi to keep his movement within certain narrow limits and eschew demonstrations and any sort of public excitement has been brought out in his public statements. Nor have the authorities rushed to take any precipitate action by arresting Mahatma Gandhi or declaring the Congress as illegal or anything of that kind. This has given rise to the hope that something may yet be done to restore political harmony in the country. In politics it is never too late to mend matters however serious the situation may be at the moment, for one gesture, given the right spirit may transform the whole atmosphere. And so among the departing members of the Central Legislature whose session concluded on Monday last, one could notice the feeling that deplorable as have been the recent political developments in the country a statesmanlike solution is still possible.

Some Suggestions

Several suggestions from non-party leaders have recently come into prominence. The names of several ex-members of the Viceroy's Cabinet are connected with the move for forming a representative committee or delegation to meet political leaders and the Viceroy for deciding on an agreed scheme for the war period for reconstructing the Central Government. Their intentions are undoubtedly laudable but the difficulties inherent in the situation are so great that there is no inclination on any quarter to build any large hopes on these efforts of non-party leaders. On the other hand the suggestion has been made by Mr. P. N. Saprú, a former President of the Liberal Federation that a goodwill mission should come out to this country from the United Kingdom. If this mission consists of men like Sir Stafford Cripps (now in Russia) Lord Samuel and others who command public confidence in this country and at the same time are in a position to influence the policy of the Churchill cabinet it might not be entirely valueless. Both in England and in India there is now an insistent demand that a new approach should be made to the Indian problem and that not in the old manner of slow and halting bargaining but in a bold and generous spirit. The Lucknow Anglo-Indian daily, "The Pioneer" writes "What is needed is a great intellectual and honest effort aimed at assuring for all parties a real share in the Central Government and none a monopoly of power. Britain should take the initiative not only because the parties in India have failed to settle their differences but also because she is one of the parties to the dispute".

Whose Initiative?

Who then should take the initiative at this critical moment to find a way out of the political difficulties? It is clear that unless the Government takes the initiative no useful purpose is likely to be served. The concluding speeches in the Central Assembly on the Supplementary Finance Bill gave one the impression that an opportunity may soon be found to bring the leaders of the Congress and the Muslim League together for political talks. In fact it was Mr. Jinnah who appealed to the Congress members and said that they should get together to formulate a joint demand to the British Government, and the reply of Mr. Bhalabhai Desai was in every respect satisfactory. The expected meeting has, however not taken place. Mr. Bhalabhai Desai is now in jail along with many other Congress leaders. The two speeches of Mr. Jinnah in Delhi subsequent to the Assembly session showed, however that his mind was moving in a different direction now. He characterised the Congress movement as an attempt to coerce the British Government to coerce the Muslims. He has gone further to hurl a threat that if the British Government showed any sign of yielding to the Congress demands the Muslim League would have to intervene to assert its own rights and claims. In every speech of his, Mr. Jinnah has raised the cry of Pakistan as their irrevocable political claim. On the other hand there has been a counter move from Hindu bodies for resisting this demand for the partitioning of India. At least three speakers in the Council of State, Mr. P. N. Saprú, Pandit H. N. Kunzru and Mr. S. N. Mahtha spoke out strongly against the Pakistan cry and said that they would on no account agree to the partitioning of India. In the result the situation facing the country is both complex and novel—partly because of these communal demands and counter-demands and partly because of the absence of any move from the Government to re-examine the problem and find a solution.

The Next Step

The position so far as the Govt. is concerned is that the offer contained in the August declaration of the Viceroy still holds good and though the scheme envisaged in it is for the present suspended, it is open to the parties concerned to avail themselves of it, if and when they choose. But the simple fact is that this scheme is for all practical purposes dead and cannot possibly be revived, for having been rejected by all the parties concerned as totally inadequate, from the point of view of transfer of power to political parties it cannot serve as a basis or bringing them together in the Central Government. The object which the Viceroy had in view viz, the association of leaders of political parties in the Central Government can only be achieved if an acceptable scheme can be offered at least now. So far as the Congress is concerned the general view is that it will still be agreeable to any popularly based National Govt. on an all-party basis at the Centre. In Congress circles no serious importance is attached to the apprehensions expressed by Mr. Jinnah, for they apparently feel that once the leaders of the Congress and the Muslim League sit together to form a Cabinet acceptable to both and deciding on a common programme of work, they are not likely to experience any great difficulty. This feeling is largely due to the fact that the Congress is prepared to go to the utmost length to accommodate the Muslim League and remove its fears. As a matter of fact it was found during the recent session of the Central Assembly that the Muslim League and the other non-official parties invariably voted together on the issues which came up before the House. As Mr. Jinnah has agreed to keep the Pakistan question aside for the present at least for the period of the war this need not interfere with the formation of a National Government on an all party basis. Two suggestions are therefore made for the consideration of the Government in the course of political talks here. The first is that the Central Legislature should be immediately dissolved and fresh elections ordered so that a representative House in the fullest sense may come into being. The second is that the British Government should accept the principle of a National Government and leave it to the parties concerned to form an all party Cabinet.

The Surplus Problem

Much was expected of the Eastern Group Conference, but it has come and gone leaving only an acute feeling of disappointment. What new industries are likely to come into existence in this country as a result of this conference? To what extent will these conference countries be able to assist India to find a market for her surplus

SIR MIRZA AT SATARA

Advice to Students

In addressing the students of the Willington College, District Satara, Sir Mirza, said:

Education is not the accumulation of information. You should regard this as a laboratory where information is transformed into knowledge and a temple where individuals light their torches from the fires of wisdom, ancient and modern. Colleges should not be used as cheap imitations of houses of legislature there will be time, and plenty of it, for active participation in politics for you all when you emerge from your cloistered seclusion into the rough and tumble of everyday life. Make this your period of preparation and contemplation, only too soon will time sweep you into frenzied activity where detached thought becomes a luxury.

Now at a time when the ideals of civilized life are on trial and, nearer home, there is too much of tragic confusion and vacillation, I want you to help in whatever way you can, the forces that make for understanding, tolerance and sympathy. Peace like liberty can be preserved only by eternal vigilance, and education for present day needs should aim at the substitution of conviction for dogma in individuals, and persuasion for propaganda in social policy. Sympathy means "feeling with" others. Cultivate this and you will have in the efflux of time, peace within and peace without.

Six Specific Skills

An American educationist, lecturing not long ago, described "the educated man in the Twentieth Century" as one who had acquired six specific skills, who knew a good many things that an uneducated man did not know at all or knew only superficially or who had developed a number of attitudes, habits and appreciations which were not part of the psychological equipment of an uneducated man.

produce in wheat, groundnuts, jute, cotton etc? Neither of these questions has had a satisfactory answer from the conference. On the contrary it has left a fear as the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry has said that the recommendations of the conference might instead of assisting or stimulating industrial enterprise, involve a set back to industrialisation. It has therefore demanded that before the Government of India gives effect to any of the recommendations of the conference it should consult commercial and industrial opinion in the surplus problem and not on what the conference might be able to do. Already an elaborate coffee control scheme has been announced to deal with the surplus problem—though if the Dominions can help in something more of an Empire spirit and buy more from India there may be no surplus at all.

Communities Must Come together

Bengal Premier's Appeal

(A.P.) Calcutta, Dec. 7
Appealing to the members of the Council of All India Muslim League to write to Mr. Jinnah, requesting him to call an emergency meeting, Mr. A.K. Fazlul Haq, Bengal Premier Says: "There are two essential points which we cannot forget. We must be won and as quickly as possible. For that purpose the whole resources of India must be mobilized towards the achievement of this object. Secondly, the constitution of India should be changed in a drastic manner in order to meet the aspirations of the people. Neither of these objects can be achieved unless the various communities come to some understanding regarding not merely the frame work but also the details of the scheme. I am working out the details of proposals which I think should be considered by a joint conference."

C. P. Ex-Finance Minister Sentenced to one year

(A.P.) Nagpur, Dec. 7
D.K. Mehta, Ex-Finance Minister, Central Provinces, who was arrested yesterday at Lucknow was sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment and recommended to A. class, was brought to Nagpur Central Jail.

The six specific skills which he said every educated person should have, were thus described:

- (1) ability to speak one's own language correctly and effectively in conversation and on one's feet before an audience;
- (2) ability to read one's own language with reasonable speed and comprehension;
- (3) ability to write clear and well organized exposition in one's own language;
- (4) ability to read a foreign language with facility;
- (5) ability to think clearly from a given set of facts; and
- (6) ability to work and live with other people.

I agree with him that all these skills are most valuable in life and I hope that you will try and equip yourselves in all these respects.

In India our educated men should know not only their own language thoroughly but should also be genuinely proficient in the English language. They ought to master a third language too namely, Hindustani.

One Safe Rule

Students, by your example you can show that it is possible for people of different races and creeds to live together in peace and harmony. In this period of world trouble, there is only one safe rule for us Indians. By living, thinking and acting as Indians we can best bring peace to a troubled world. We must create and maintain a tradition of mutual tolerance and human equality. Let it be your task to make truth, social justice, and tolerance deeply rooted in human relationships and to spread the knowledge of human dignity in every school and college. It is this duty of the individual knowledge and understanding, so that he may help to create a common Indian culture, strong enough to mould us, heterogeneous as we are, into a common will to promote the national progress of our country.

Daily News

Bangalore City—Dec. 10, 1946.

Hindu Solidarity

Mr. Syamaprasad Mookerjee, presided over the Fifth Session of the Mahabhasa Provincial Hindu Sabha Conference held at Bilaspur on 7th December. His Presidential address is a clarion call to Hindus to organise themselves and maintain their solidarity. It is a pity that in spite of half a century's earnest efforts by Indian National Congress to fuse Hindus and Mahomedans into a united nation, the policy of British Government has made it difficult, nay impossible to achieve this ideal. Mahatma Gandhi made Hindu-Muslim unity one of the four pillars of Swaraj. He cherished the idea that until Hindu Muslim unity is achieved Swaraj is impossible. On this assumption he declined even to attend the Round Table Conference held at London. But he was persuaded to attend it. Whether the R. T. C. did any good to India or not it did permanent harm by foisting the unwanted communal award on India. The Pakistan cry was made possible by the communal award. The British Government are repeating the parrot cry that Hindu's problem is insoluble on account of Hindu-Muslim disunity. What should the nation do at present? Can it sit quiet until the impossible is made possible? The answer is furnished in Mr. Syamaprasad Mookerjee's speech. He says Hindus cannot wait indefinitely, they will go ahead whether the Muslims join them or not. The country's progress cannot be checkmated by the obscurantist attitude of Mr. Jinnah and Muslim League. Mr. Mookerjee also sounds a warning to British Government not to play one party in India against another. This old game ought to stop now. If British Government are well-meaning and sincere to India, they should, without delay transfer power to people's representatives. He says it is open to Government to institute national electorates and leave administration in the provinces and at the Centre to be run by majority parties, who will be returned through such giving a mandate for grammes and political propaganda of self-interest. The will ultimately reduce to a mere misunderstanding to national solidarity and may sound the death-knell of Imperialistic domination.

The Mahabhasa has a function. But we should realise that the Hindu-Muslim unity is not a mere slogan. It is a reality. It is a fact. It is a truth. It is a principle. It is a policy. It is a programme. It is a goal. It is a dream. It is a vision. It is a hope. It is a faith. It is a belief. It is a conviction. It is a determination. It is a resolve. It is a pledge. It is a promise. It is a commitment. It is a responsibility. It is a duty. It is a right. It is a privilege. It is a power. It is a strength. It is a courage. It is a sacrifice. It is a service. It is a contribution. It is a participation. It is a collaboration. It is a partnership. It is a joint venture. It is a common endeavour. It is a shared responsibility. It is a collective effort. It is a united front. It is a solid base. It is a strong foundation. It is a sturdy pillar. It is a firm support. It is a reliable ally. It is a trustworthy friend. It is a loyal companion. It is a devoted follower. It is a dedicated worker. It is a committed member. It is an active participant. It is an engaged citizen. It is an informed voter. It is a responsible stakeholder. It is a concerned citizen. It is a patriotic citizen. It is a law-abiding citizen. It is a peace-loving citizen. It is a tolerant citizen. It is a respectful citizen. It is a courteous citizen. It is a considerate citizen. It is a helpful citizen. It is a cooperative citizen. It is a team player. It is a team worker. It is a team spirit. It is a team effort. It is a team success. But we should realise that the Hindu-Muslim unity is not a mere slogan. It is a reality. It is a fact. It is a truth. It is a principle. It is a policy. It is a programme. It is a goal. It is a dream. It is a vision. It is a hope. It is a faith. It is a belief. It is a conviction. It is a determination. It is a resolve. It is a pledge. It is a promise. It is a commitment. member that the Mahabhasa may speak in the name of twenty-eight crores of Hindus, but it is only Indian National Congress that can speak in the name of Indian Nation as a whole. Even Mr. Mookerjee must admit that it is Congress that has toiled all these years, under the inspiring leadership of Mahatma Gandhi for what is dear not only to Hindus but to all patriotic and national minded Indians. In the political sphere Congress is doing the work what the Hindu Mahabhasa has at heart. We, therefore, humbly submit that gentlemen like Dr. Moonje, Mr. V. D. Savarkar, Bhui Parnanand and Mr. Syamaprasad Mookerjee ought to do everything in their power to strengthen the hands of Congress and not weaken it by separatist cries.

We congratulate Mr. Syamaprasad Mookerjee on his splendid speech and we hope the readers will not be the trouble of going through it. It is a long and inwardly digested and useful in it.

A PUFF OF SMOKE

A friend of mine opened this morning's paper and exclaimed "What is this flood in Bangalore and Mysore? All old veterans have been swept out and clean washed"— Truly Bangalore City and Mysore City Elections have done duty for a flood. The old accumulated dirt is washed out. The pavement is as clean as marble.

It is no offence to my old veteran friends. Their days are over. They have done very good and useful work in their time. There is nothing for them to feel ashamed for the defeat they have suffered now. As good Indians they should take their lot with good cheer and try their hands and heads at new occupations. I may also venture to suggest to them humbly that they need not cherish any ideas of standing as candidates for the ensuing Assembly and Legislative Council elections. I am afraid some of them may run the risk of forfeiting their deposits. This is a friendly hint.

My friend asks what is this contrast? In Bangalore and Mysore, Congress scored cent-per-cent victory, but at Ajampur it is said they suffered cent-per-cent defeat. I would refer my friend to the Congress Bhavan at Cottonpet. I am sure the A. M. C. C. meeting to be held at Ajampur will investigate into the question. Ajampur voters will be ready at hand to narrate their own story.

What if there is a defeat at Ajampur? There are many Ajampurs in our State. All the Ajampurs put together do not equal one Bangalore or Mysore, as a host of stars cannot equal one Sun.

My friends R. Z. S. A. H. M. Ramaswamy and Janab M. Mahamad Sait have been defeated in the Mysore City Elections. These two are my friends and I have high respect for them. As Vice-Presidents of the Mysore City Municipal Council they have rendered valuable services. I am sure these two will take their defeat in good cheer. Mr. Mahamad Sait is a stormy petrel of Mysore City politics. He will rise again, it may be, as something different from what he is today.

I add my word of sympathy to Messrs. A. Venkatesiah and V. Lingappaiah. They are good workers but I think the rate-payers are rightly partial to Congress. Why not these gentlemen join Congress? I hope they will decide ere long.

In Bangalore I have my defeated friends. They are famous men. I cannot deal with them today as I have already exceeded the space-limit allotted to me. I shall meet them some days later.

Bangalore City—Dec. 11, 1940.

Mr. K. Natarajan

It is a rare privilege to be a journalist and that, a journalist of over fifty years standing and be respected by the whole country in a reverential manner. It tallies to the lot of very few journalists to be loved, adored and respected like Mr. K. Natarajan, retired editor of 'The Indian Social Reformer'. As our readers know Mr. K. Natarajan recently retired from the editorship of 'The Indian Social Reformer'. He was its founder and editor for over half a century. It is a long period in a man's life and a country's life. These fifty years, our country has seen enormous progress in all directions of life. Gentlemen, like Mr. Natarajan, who have been pioneers of journalism in our country, can deservingly rest their oars now and contemplate with satisfaction on the service they have rendered to their fellowmen. Mr. Natarajan is a rare type of journalist who would never swerve from his path of rectitude, unmindful of praise or blame, from whatever quarter it may come. He maintained his individuality despite mass movements and mass leaderships. His pen never quailed and quivered, to perform its duty. Be he a Gokhale, be he a Tilak and be he a Gandhi, Mr. Natarajan's pen never swerved from offering its criticisms when it thought the mighty personality was doing distinct disservice to himself and to the country. It held the scales even in the midst of stormy controversies between political parties and political personalities. No storm of indignation or protest would affect the even temper of Mr. Natarajan's pen. There have been numerous occasions when 'The Indian Social Reformer' offered its sharp criticism against Mahatma and his followers. Gandhiji has very high respect for Mr. Natarajan and his words. On many occasions Mahatma Gandhi has recommended his followers in the light of 'The Indian Social Reformer's' criticisms. Today, as Mr. Natarajan lies upon the death bed, I feel as if the motto adopted by the 'Reformer', 'as lamb as the sheep', is as applicable to him as to any other man. To Mr. Natarajan, I feel as if the motto 'as lamb as the sheep' is as applicable to him as to any other man. To Mr. Natarajan, I feel as if the motto 'as lamb as the sheep' is as applicable to him as to any other man. LEGAL

Transportation For Murder Confirmed

(Before the Chief Justice and Venkataranga Aiyangar J.)

Bangalore Dec. 9

Their Honours, dismissing today a criminal appeal, confirmed the sentence of transportation for life on one Govinda, passed by the Sessions Judge of Mysore Division on a charge of murder.

The case was that the accused who was a coolie in Devaraja Market, Mysore City, on the afternoon of December 3, 1939, stabbed one Basavayya alias Hotte, another coolie, with a knife while he was sleeping. Basavayya who received serious injuries was removed to hospital where he succumbed. It was alleged that the accused and the deceased had a quarrel regarding a woman, that the deceased had taunted the accused and therefore the accused stabbed the deceased to wreak his vengeance. The Sessions Judge of Mysore who tried the case found no sufficient evidence regarding motive charge and considering the fact that the accused was only 23 years old, passed on him lesser of the two sentences, namely, transportation for life.

Their Honours, on appeal preferred by the accused, found no reason to interfere with the lower court's judgment.

ಶ ಸತ್ಯಂ ವಾಕ್ಯಂ, A Sanskrit couplet says, ಅಪ್ರಿಯತಮಃ ಪಠ್ಯಃ ಸತ್ಯಂ ವಾಕ್ಯಂ ಚ ದರ್ಶನಂ. But thank God, we have sterling men like Mr. Natarajan, who never sacrifice truth for the sake of pleasantness. We have pleasure in according our hearty support to the Committee formed in Bombay with the Rt. Hon. M.R. Jayaker as president to give expression to public appreciation of the services rendered by him to the country through 'The Indian Social Reformer'. They have appealed for funds to found a Natarajan Scholarship in Journalism under the auspices of the University of Bombay. Rs. 10,000 are needed for the endowment. This is not a big amount, considering the services rendered by Mr. Natarajan to the country. We hope our fellow citizens will, in an abundant measure, respond to the Bombay Committee appeal. May God bless Mr. Natarajan for a long number of years to continue his services to the country, achieve what he has dedicated himself to do in this world.

A PUFF OF SMOKE

My Editor was pleased to show me some letters of congratulations that he has received on his starting 'Daily News'. I value very much the one sent by Mr. D.V. Gundappa, doyen of journalism in Mysore. He is a sincere friend of our editor, though I think he does not agree with him in all he does. In his letter of congratulation—which I think will not be an infringement of confidence to extract from—Mr. Gundappa in his humorous way writes: "May it soon be possible for you to add a third string to your bow in the form of AJ-KE-AKBAR, and stand forth as our invincible newspaper king." I wish to assure Mr. Gundappa on behalf of my editor that he has neither means nor power to start an urdu paper. Nor is it his desire to become a king, even a newspaper king for the matter of that. These are days of republics and where kings prevail these are days of responsible governments under their aegis. If my editor were a king he would have conferred full responsible government upon his people. Thank God, he is neither a king nor has he a kingdom. This is in a humorous way. My editor is sincerely grateful to Mr. D.V.G. for his kind and encouraging words. One of these days, I am sure, my editor will offer his thanks to him in person.

My editor has received several other congratulatory letters, but all are congratulations and no subscribers. The 'Daily Post' our contemporary, has put in a kind word in our favour. My editor values it very much. Here is what appears in the 'Daily Post':

We would welcome the advent of the 'Daily News', a four-page English daily which has made its appearance in Bangalore City. It was time that such a paper was published in the City. Our local vernacular contemporaries are, no doubt, excellent, but there are so many English speaking Indians everywhere in these days, that a publication such as this was over-due. The news paper is rich in news, especially Indian News.

Our contemporaries 'Visva Karnataka' and 'Deshabandhu' have also been kind to 'Daily News' and welcomed it warmly. The respected 'Hindu' of Madras has kindly noticed the birth of 'Daily News'. It is very good of them.

The 'Indian Express' of Madras has a paragraph about 'Daily News' as follows:—

The Daily News, an English Daily, was ushered into existence this morning published by Taimada, a local Kannada daily. It was a four page paper priced at six paise. In a column addressed "To our readers" it is said that it would stand and work for peaceful and progressive realisation of Government of the people, by the people and for the people under the aegis of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore. And in respect of all India, it would work for the achievement of independence of India by peaceful and legitimate means. The paper has, content-to-day with an editorial entitled 'Our congratulations to the Mysore Congress's success in Friday's election to the Bangalore City Municipality.'

There are several other letters. It will be blowing one's own trumpet to publish all of them but I cannot withhold the Daily 'Al-Kalam's' welcome to Mr. Ghouse Mohiuddin is a very respectable gentleman. He is noble, a true cultured Mahadman that he is. This is what he writes.

"We are glad to welcome into the ranks of Bangalore journalism a new English Daily under the title of Daily News. This is a long felt want in Bangalore and we are glad that Mr. P. R. Ramaiya is supplying it at a time when newspaper ventures are a hard hit. It is a morning paper with telegraphic news and we need entertain no doubt that Mr. P. R. Ramaiya who is both a graduate and an experienced journalist is editing the paper with ability and distinction. The price of six paise is an additional attraction which should not make the Daily a popular newspaper. We wish the new venture a long and useful career. Mr. Ramaiya who is the proprietor of the 'Tainadu' and also the President of the Mysore State Journalists Association is a man known to promote communal harmony and one of his characteristics is religious tolerance and impartiality. We need not therefore, apologise for recommending his paper to all the Muslims throughout the State. They may be sure to have their hands every morning on journal well worthy of their patronage. Our hearty congratulations to Mr. Ramaiya in addition to wishing him success in the new venture."

I have already transgressed the space limit. This is a special occasion and I hope my readers would forbear.

Jewellery Missing

TO-DAY'S WAR DIGEST ITALY

Italy is providing daily sensations. Another prominent War Lord has resigned "at his own request". This time he is Admiral Domenico Cavagnari Chief of the Italian Naval Staff. No sooner Marshal Badoglio laid down his august office others followed suit. These "own request" exits have shaken Sgt. Mussolini who from his snug and cosy Palazzo Venezia is looking up to the skies for the needy help. These dramatic exits coincide with the inglorious retreats in Albania and the resigned Generals have set their seal of disapproval on the shaky methods of Fascist Italy.

Mussolini without wasting a single second has commanded Admiral Riccardi to assume the Naval Command forthwith. Riccardi is a man of experience having commanded 30 Ships in 1939. No doubt Admiral Riccardi will try to satisfy his chief setting at rest the recent dislocations but it is very difficult to establish the confidence that has been rudely shaken in recent months.

The Greek Front

Argyrocastro has fallen—that is the news which has enlivened the freedom loving people throughout the World. The war weary nations of Europe have felt comfortable on the happy turn-overs in Albania. All along the Southern Front from Santi Quaranta to Premeti the Italians were retiring till a very late hour yesterday. After all Koritzza Argyrocastro is an important base whose strategic value need cause no fear in anybody. The Italians are fleeing westward towards Delvine. We hear the heartening news that the Greek Infantry have defeated the Italian Alpine troops.

The whole of Athens—the glory of Ancient Greece—is rejoicing over their "second Koritzza"—the victory at Argyrocastro. Though a severe gale and snow storm are sweeping the mountain ranges the Greeks continue to advance north of Pogradetz. Huge crowds of the Grecian Capital cheered their King and Prime Minister for the brilliant success at Argyrocastro. The King followed by General Metaxas appeared on the balcony of the Royal Palace in answer to their shouts. With the taking of Argyrocastro one quarter of the population and one seventh of the territory of Albania have been freed from the yoke of the Italian terror.

Bengal Premier's Move

"No useful purpose Served"

Says Sir Raza Ali

Dec. 10. In the course of a statement referring to Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq's latest move to bring about a settlement between the Congress and the Muslim League, Sir Raza Ali says he does not consider Mr. Huq's well meant effort to devise means to bring together the Congress and Muslim League, can serve any useful purpose at present. He adds Mr. Jinnah made the position quite clear in his speech in the Assembly on 19th November when he expressed the League's readiness to negotiate with the Congress. Sir Raza Ali thinks with most Congress. Leaders in jail it would be difficult to see how Mr. Fazlul Huq's effort could be successful. In any case from Mr. Jinnah's statement it is for the Congress to make the next move.

The Luftwaffe tried to 'blitz' London, but failed. Five hospitals, churches and a convent were hit. Many nazi bombers were destroyed over London.

Dormitory shelters have been provided for about 1,50,000 people in the London region adding to the comforts of underground shelters. Over 80,000 timber bunks giving sleeping room for 2,40,000 people have been delivered. There is still in Nazi Air tactics.

If Govt. Accepts Poona offer?

Congress Prepared to Review Situation

Maulana Azad's Reply to Pressmen A.P. Patna Dec. 10.

Asked what the attitude of the Congress would be if the Government came out with a gesture, for instance, an expression of their readiness to accept the Poona offer, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, Congress President, at a Press Conference today said that the Congress would be prepared to review the entire situation. He added the Poona offer no longer stood and if the Government came out from their side with something incorporating the substance of the Poona offer it would be entirely a new proposition.

He said that if the Congress would be if India was attacked by Fascist Power Maulana Azad said the responsibility of defending the country from Fascist invasion could have devolved upon the Congress only if it had any say in the defence preparations at the moment. The Congress, he observed, could not regard itself as a mere British subject.

He said the Congress was not prepared to accept the Poona offer as it was not a new proposition.

Kempe Gowda's Dream Comes True

BANGALORE-A GROWING CITY
Municipal Commissioner's Report

Bangalore, Dec. 10

"The area of Bangalore City will very soon exceed 15 square miles with a corresponding increase in the population which may easily exceed two and a half lakhs"—that is the heartening opinion of Mr. S. Narayana Rao, our worthy Municipal Commissioner. When Kempe Gowda the founder of this city dreamt his dream of expansion his boundary never extended beyond the palace orchard to the north Turukampalya to the west, Lal-Bagh to the South and Wilson garden to the East. But now the city knows no bounds. It has defied the sentiments of Kempe Gowda all for the better.

The Administration report of the Bangalore City Municipality just issued is a pleasant reading in itself. It is a record of noble civic worth got up with cooperation of the Council and its Executive with Municipal Commissioner as the custodian of City's Civic interests. The charm of the report lies in its descriptive sentences of continued toil to further the amenities of the City's ratepayers.

7 lakhs of rupees on public Health and Convenience, one and a half lakhs on improvement works, Four and half lakhs on water supply, nearly Rs. 80,000 on street lighting are some of the high lights in our City's expenditure. As the revenue of the Municipality does not expand to meet the needs of the growing expenditure fresh taxation has been resorted to much to the dislike of the ratepayers.

The City has 133 miles of roads but nearly one fifth of the mileage has been tarred.

The entire City has to be provided with underground drainage but so far Rs. 7 lakhs have been spent out of a comprehensive figure of Rs. 46 lakhs. As the Government has agreed to meet the expenditure in equal proportions a slight relief is felt by those who love the City's sanitation.

The total revenue of the Municipality is Rs. 1,40,000 in the next estimated to be 1,40 lakhs but the demand of more amenities is increasing day by day.

The Commissioner of the City has been very busy in the past few days. He has been attending to the various matters of the City and has been very busy in the past few days.

The people of this City are becoming radio-minded as a result of successful drives towards this. At three places loud speakers pour sweet music but a better efficiency is needed on the part of tuners. We wonder whether they have been trained to handle a set properly. The sound that emanates from the Municipal Garden radio is something that is not music.

German Day Raiders' New Technique

Dodging Spitfires At Low Levels

(By Cable) London
A Daily Telegraph reporter writes:—

Day raiders are trying a new technique to dodge Spitfires. They slip over the coast in ones and twos at a low altitude, sometimes almost skimming the rooftops. Normally they fly as high as 37,000 feet.

This afternoon I was standing on a cliff edge when a Messerschmitt 109 passed immediately overhead at less than 200 feet, making towards the sea from this island and going flat out for home. Two other German planes had crossed at a low height, almost over the same spot, and escaped a few days ago.

In this however the ground defence had prepared an unpleasant surprise and the German had the hottest reception I've ever seen given to the enemy. Many machine-gun nests were active and there was a pandemonium of sound and tremendous fire was centred on the plane.

Bigger anti-aircraft guns joined in the chorus and black bursts ringed the sky round the raider. The machine seemed to jerk spasmodically, as if it had been hit, and as it vanished into the haze it seemed to be in a long shallow dive into the sea.

The Germans may be using these fast low fliers for reconnaissance with a view to future attempts at landing raiding parties. At any rate low planes have not attempted to use their machine-guns on ground targets.

The German big guns opposite gave the Dover area an off day.

Hiding the Truth German Press Ignores the Greek War

(By Cable) London
The Daily Telegraph correspondent on the German frontier cables: One of the most curious aspects of the Italo-Greek campaign is seen in the failure of the German Press to take note of it. Beyond occasional Italian communiqués, German readers have had no means of ascertaining what is going on.

Officially it is stated in Berlin that there is no war, as none has been declared. Everything is done to give the appearance, by one reference to the campaign, that only skirmishes are taking place.

Mistake Of Fascist High Command

Will New Italian Offensive Yield Results?

(By Cable) London
Italy's defeat on the Albanian front was due to a mistake on the part of the Italian High Command, states the Rome correspondent of the Madrid newspaper A. B. C.

He says that 70,000 Italians were thrown against 250,000 Greeks and that five Italian colonels were killed while leading their troops.

Some Spanish critics expect Italy to atone for her initial rout. The Military Correspondent of El Pueblo thinks that Italy's "final success", depends on the fruits which the first stages of the new offensive may yield.

In the meantime the official Spanish news agency reports that Berlin remains under the impression that all the countries of South-Eastern Europe are interested in a friendly solution being reached between Athens and Rome, failing which they want at least to keep out of the war absolutely.

Political Murders In Rumania

Evidence of Totalitarian Infection

(By Cable) London

Concerning the Rumanian assassinations the Times Diplomatic Correspondent writes:—What is particularly distressing in the crime is the evidence it affords of the demoralisation of Rumanian public life by totalitarian infection. Of all the states of South Eastern Europe Rumania has had the cleanest record in the matter of political assassination. Between 1870 and 1930 scarcely one political crime of importance figures in the national annals. In 1931-32 the newly-formed Iron Guard began to kill political opponents and after the murder of M. Duca in 1933 there came a long series of assassinations culminating in the massacre of November 26. German Antonescu will be exceptionally fortunate if he can check the tendency among the nerve half-educated lads, led by the entirely unscrupulous adventurers who form the great majority of Rumania's "saviours" the Iron Guard.

(By Cable) London
Figures the accuracy of which has been verified by neutral observers tell clearly of the immense losses inflicted on German aircraft in their attacks on Britain. They leave no doubt on the superiority of the Royal Air Force.

Mahatma's Blessings to Mysore Congress

It is a heartening message that Mahatma Gandhi has sent to the Mysore Congress on hearing that it scored Cent-per-Cent success in the Mysore and Bangalore Municipal Elections. The message is as follows: "Delighted over the signal success. You must now build up constructively." This is a lovely message, characteristic of Mahatma Gandhi. He has unbounded affection for Mysore people. He wants them to get on very well. His relations with the authorities also are friendly. He is a friend of our Dewan Sahab. But Mahatma Gandhi's friendship does not stand in his way of telling Mysore Government that they are wrong when they do wrong. On many an occasion he has praised the Mysore administration. But it must be remembered that Gandhiji is a man of the people and for the people. He has several times given good advice to Mysore Government. Nor has he spared the Mysore Congress when it went wrong. In these circumstances, the Mahatma's message and advice to Mysore Congress is one which is to be preserved as a priceless treasure. We are sure Mysore Congress is not in a hurry. We are confident that they will "build up constructively".

May we, on this occasion, once again, draw the attention of Mysore Government to the change that has come over the country. The Mysore of to-day is not the Mysore of 1925 or 1926. Things have been moving fast, much faster, than the wisest of us could divine. Mysore people are pulsating with a new life. Palliatives will not do. Great far-sighted statesmanship is the need of the hour in Mysore. Sir Mirza Ismail, our Dewan, has done so much to Mysore. Let him not miss this golden opportunity of shaking hands with the Mysore Congress and take them into his confidence. Let him not have to encourage enemies. The country and the people have expressed themselves in clear association terms. There is no room for compromise and shilly-shally. Let us open our eyes to the new Mysore. Obstacles and hindrances are to be understood and swept out of our way and a new Mysore to be

No Fresh Taxation Necessary

Bangalore Municipal Councillor's Views

Bangalore Dec. 12. The Bangalore City Municipal Council at its special meeting, last evening, under the presidency of Dr. M. Royan, passed the Administration report for the year 1939-40. Mr. S. Narayana Rao, Municipal Commissioner, was also present.

The council discussed the report for more than three hours and then adopted it. Extracts from the report have already appeared in these columns.

Mr. L. K. Puroshtham Naidu suggested that three methods might be adopted to improve the income of the Municipality instead of increasing the taxation, namely the executive to be empowered to collect dues, the Council to approach Government with a request for more grant and for reducing the payments to be made towards light and water, and to raise loan, as the money market was cheap, to invest on remunerative lines.

Mr. K. Gubbaiya observed that the financial difficulties would be solved if what was legitimately due to the Municipality was collected. Therefore he felt no need to increase taxation any further. He complimented the Commissioner for the illuminating report.

Mr. M. R. Narasimha Ayyangar said that the report before the house was one of the best administration reports in the history of the Council. He felt that it would have given the public an exact idea of the work carried out by this council if the report had been published in Kannada also. He declared that the levying of profession tax was perfectly correct as the rich also had been taxed by this measure. After some other councillors expressed their opinion, the report was adopted.

A. P. Sylhet, Dec. 11.

Mr. Bireschandra Mishra, Secretary, Local District Congress Committee was sentenced to eighteen months rigorous imprisonment under Sec. 124 A (Sedition) for publishing an article entitled "Council Assembly Kisan movement."

destined goal under the inspiring and progressive lead of our young noble Mahatma, Sri Jaya Chamarajendra Wadiyar Bahadur Mahatma Gandhi's message to Mysore Congress is also a message to Mysore Government. We can assure all concerned that Mysore Congress is prepared to bury its hatchets, if there is manifested a will and gesture for friendship and co-operation from the other side. We are optimistic and also request our readers to be optimistic. Even in the face of our gloom and darkness, let us not become heart and cheerless. All is bound to be well.

TO-DAY'S War Digest

The Greek Front

Between the sea coast of Santi Quaranta and Velsona there is a neat little town called Chimmara. This town lies 22 miles west of Argyrocastro. The Greeks are advancing very cautiously towards this place in the hope of threatening the flank of the Italians who are already withdrawing northwards from Santi Quaranta. The Italian rear guards are resisting the Greek push. A cavalry screen has been thrown out by the Greeks to counter the Italian plans.

The whole right wing of the Italian army in Albania is retreating to the north and north-west of Argyrocastro. Further north the Italians are retreating in utter confusion.

The 'Resurrection Kiss' usually reserved for Easter Sunday morning is being freely used to celebrate the latest victory at Argyrocastro. In Epirus the people have become so overjoyed that to kiss a neighbouring lady is considered to be within bounds. What a pleasure in the midst of death and fury!

Bad Tidings at Vichy

A bitter wordy warfare is going on at Vichy between M. Petain and the Nazi over-lords. News has filtered through that M. Laval has been losing ground both with the Germans and Petain. Nazis desire a quick consummation of their desire to bring France into line with the Axis. But Vichy resists in the interests of its own freedom. Von Ribbentrop is trying to win over France to complete subservience. Nazis are already forcing M. Flandin to come into the Vichy Cabinet. But the old man of France is unbending. He is successfully resisting the machinations of Nazis.

In the meantime America is threatening Vichy that if in the event of French military collaboration with Germany she will be forced to sacrifice her friendship. Admiral Leahy the new U. S. A. Ambassador at Vichy is strengthening the influence of M. Petain M. Laval about whom so much is being said is returning to Paris.

Battle for Africa

British Imperial Forces have begun the long cherished Battle for Africa. Operations have already commenced some 15 or 20 miles south of Sidi Barrani. Little can be said at present about the extent to which the operations may develop but it is known that for the past few weeks the whole of the enemy's forward line has been constantly pushed by British units. Within an hour the British have captured an Italian camp just south of Sidi Barrani. The G. O. C. of one of the Italian forces has

A PUFF OF SMOKE

I read the following message in a Lucknow contemporary:—"The Herald is in difficulties save it with all your might," is the slogan of the students of Allahabad when they go for collection of money for The Herald.

The cause of The Herald is being supported here by all classes of people. Vigorous efforts are being made to collect the maximum possible money in minimum time. Professors and students alike are carrying on a regular campaign to collect the fund for The Herald.

I congratulate "Herald" on its good luck. It augurs well for newspapers. I have given publication to this news as a provision to our local papers in times of emergency. What a fine idea it will be if our Central College and Maharaja College students should go round with a begging bowl for collecting deposit amounts if the local furies should wield their bludgeons against local papers. God forbid such a contingency.

I compliment the 'Bangalore Intermediate College students on their wise decision to go lack to their Association. They have shown their feelings enough. Now that the Vice Chancellor has come out with a declaration of something like a policy to guide future occasions, it is statesmanlike, should I say, on the part of students not to have pressed the matter too far. Mr. N. S. Subba Rao, is an academician of fine fellow feeling. He can understand and appreciate what is in the mind of students. I also offer my congratulations to the Vice Chancellor on the happy termination of this rather sorry episode.

A New Delhi message states as follows:—

H. E. the Viceroy has received a contribution of Rs. 5 per mensem, for one year, from a donor who has given up smoking to effect this saving. The donor desires amount to be credited to the Tobacco Fund. This has been gratefully accepted by the Viceroy.—

I would commend this to the attention of all smokers. If money could be saved sent to War Fund for manufacturing Spitfires, it is a fine idea.

I congratulate Dr. C. Ram Reddy on the completion of sixtieth year. He is well known to Mysore. There are many students of his, here who remember him dearly as a jovial professor and kind-hearted principal. Whatever his political be, he is a man of deep culture. He is a fine witty speaker. His speeches are a certain intellectual entertainment. He is never dull and insipid. He is not commonplace. He entertains his audiences and tickles them to ripples of good humour and laughter. Even as a conversationist he is unsurpassed. We are proud of Dr. Reddy. May God shower on him his choicest blessings.

News comes from Madras that august body, India Eastern Newspaper Society and transacted some business. We miss Mr. Mahadev D. in that company. I hope he will not be a fresh controversy as to whether assurance is given or not. Mr. K. Srinivasan has said no assurance was given, and no assistance was given. But it transpires that members of Indian and Eastern Newspaper Society waited days earlier on Government India and talked something over. That has nothing to do with the Conference. I am sure that all that deserves to be over the assurance question has been said, and there will not be any further ink-slinging matter.

been killed and his second in command has been captured.

The R. A. F. continue to harass the industrial and military targets in Germany. Dusseldorf was bombed once again and this is admitted by the press in Germany. Lorient a submarine base in Germany was also attacked. British bombers have persistently bombed the Rhine-Ruhr districts particularly Dusseldorf and Cologne.

Enemy Agents in Britain

Two enemy agents who were found guilty of having acted on behalf of Germany were executed at a prison in Britain. This is the first time that spies are found in that island. Timely vigilance of the police will prevent such activities. It is revealed that spies had in their possession considerable sums of money. Their chief work in transmitting wireless messages to the enemy.

Mysore Notes

Inter-Staff debate

(From our own correspondents)

Mysore Dec. 10.

Under the auspices of the Mysore University Union an Inter-Staff Debate took place last evening in the quadrangle of the Maharaja's College with Mr. J. C. Rolo in the chair.

Mr. B. S. Keshavan of the Central College Bangalore moved the proposition that the House desires a return to the good old days. Pointing out the evil effects of the growth of machinery and the expansion of Science in modern times, he pleaded that we are prepared to go back to the good old days when there was ample scope for the development of human personality.

Mr. D. S. Gordon of the Maharaja's College Mysore opposed the proposition saying that a return to past would be a return to ignorance. In good days according to him were not in the past, but they were to come in the future.

Messrs. P. G. Satyagirinathan and T. L. Kasturi Rangachar of the Mysore Intermediate College supported the prime mover while Mr. P. R. Jagapati Naidu of the Bangalore Central College and Dr. L. S. Ramaswamy of the Mysore Intermediate College supported the opposition.

When put to vote the proposition was carried.

Death of a villager

It is reported that on the 8th instant, on the tank bund near Nagaval village one Hutche Gowda was found lying with severe injuries on his body. He was removed for treatment to the hospital at Mysore where he died later. The Mysore Taluk Police held an inquest on the dead body yesterday. Foul play is suspected and further investigation is proceeding.

Marshal Petain on "Collaboration"

(By Cable) London

The Madrid Correspondent of the Daily Telegraph Cables: In an interview given to the new Paris Weekly La Gerbe, Marshal Petain said that the word "collaboration" was easily provided with many interpretations. Military collaboration with Germany was impossible because France had no army and the country was under overwhelming obligations and burdens.

"Germany", added the Marshal, "could not co-operate in the defence of Northern Africa and other French possessions in the same continent menaced by Britain and de Gaulle without Britain declaring war on us and Paris and other cities being bombed."

Collaboration was "possible and perhaps necessary" if France were still to exist in Western Europe.

Land Record Survey in Mysore

Record Of Rights Work

Bangalore, Dec. 10

"Survey, classification, bandh pahani and other miscellaneous work was carried out in 44 Inam villages involving an area of 11,365 acres against 13,055 acres in 69 villages in 1938-39," says the annual report of the Department of Land Records, Survey and Settlement for 1939-40, which also incidentally shows a general improvement in the volume of work done.

There was noticeable increase in work done under Phod and measurement, the area attended to being 70,797 acres against 58,444 acres in 1938-39. The number of darakast and other records disposed of during the year also marked an improvement, the number disposed of being 10,779 as against 10,127 in 1938-39. Classification work was carried out in 2,323 villages in respect of 7,826 numbers comprising 37,104 acres.

The introduction of Survey and Settlement in Inam villages proceeds but slowly. So far only 610 villages have been surveyed and settled and as many as 1,400 villages remain to be dealt with. The question of accelerating the introduction of survey and Settlement into these villages is under consideration.

The Department attended to the work connected with the decennial revision of potgi of 165 villages in 5 taluks and supplemental potgi of 2 villages.

The preliminary work relating to Record of Rights in the Madhugiri, Srinivasapur and Krishnarajanagar taluks was taken up and completed during the year and the work relating to four more taluks, namely, Krishnarajpet, Koratagere, Hosakote and Kankanhalli and Chinkurli Hobli in French Rocks was in progress.

Hissa Survey field work and checking was done in 9 taluks, the number of Hissas measured being 2,39,707 and the number of Hissas checked in monsoon tapasani being 1,84,914. The Record of Rights staff also attended to the preparation of the Record of Rights and Index of Land Registers in 8 taluks. Nineteen Record of Rights Surveyors worked in 16 taluks in connection with the clearing of arrears of mutation cases and measured 15,898 Hissas in 3,445 villages.

It was also observed that the Hissa Survey work was hampered by reason of the large number of missing stones which had to be replaced and that in 388 villages in 7 taluks as many as 43,663 boundary marks were used in respect of 11,684 Survey numbers, the largest number of such missing stones having been noticed in Maravali.

War and Indian Industry

Jute Mills to Machine Shells

Production of Soda Ash

(From our Correspondent)

New Delhi, Dec. 5

As part of war supplies 1,400 tons of textiles have been shipped from Bombay since the beginning of October. Further 800 tons are awaiting shipment.

The service clothing factories in October manufactured 150,000 articles. Efforts are being made to develop the handloom industry to meet the deficiency of mill-made blankets.

Progress is also reported in the manufacture of soda ash, the production of which has begun at the rate of 12,000 tons per annum.

Men and Matters

Prince Saionji

Prince Saionji, the last member of the Imperial Household Agency, died on November 10 at the age of 72. He was the last living link between the old nobility and the new, having lived in Japan not only the whole westernising process in Japan, but the rise and fall of liberalism in that country.

Beginning in the old nobility, Saionji helped as a volunteer in 1868 to overthrow the Shogunate dictatorship in Japan. A follower of Prince Ito's westernising policy, he spent many years in study in Europe and even more in representing his country there. He was twice Prime Minister, and was influential in bringing about the Anglo-Japanese alliance in 1902. His real influence was exerted through the nobility, for as one of the last members of the Imperial Household Agency, he was the sole link between the old nobility and the new. For many years he has been the sole supporter of the group, but he was forced to give up the day of his death, and his influence was on the side of conservatism.

Germany Faces A Second War Winter

Food Situation And Attitude Of People

(By cable) London
The Helsinki Correspondent of the Daily Telegraph writes:

The Berlin correspondent of the Hufvudstadsbladet writes: The advent of a second winter as unwelcome as the first, the population food shortage and causing fear of further restrictions. The Germans try to console themselves by claiming that England's sufferings will be greater than theirs and point to similar trials facing entire Europe.

For the purpose of bolstering up the people's morale the Nazi Press describes Polish women as being in a state of starvation, occupied by the Germans and bartering 20 eggs for a loaf of bread.

In Denmark butter deliveries to Berlin and foreign ports are suspended. The Danes suspect the same course will be followed by the Germans themselves.

Spain's reluctance to join the Axis is attributed to the necessity of maintaining food supplies from South America. Rumours in German circles in Spain, Berlin hopes to force Spain to join the Axis. The shortage of foodstuffs in Spain is being used to force Spain to join the Axis. The shortage of foodstuffs in Spain is being used to force Spain to join the Axis.

Japan's Desire To End Chinese War

Device To Secure Peace

(by Cable) London
The Manchester Guardian writes: There are many reports that a peace treaty is about to be concluded between Japan and the puppet government at Nanking under Wang Ching-wei. According to some versions the treaty will be signed on the 3rd.

The project is clearly a Japanese attempt to end the war with China as soon as possible. It is hoped at Tokio that peace with an "independent" government at Nanking will impress the rest of China and undermine the influence of Chiang Kai-shek.

Competent authorities here do not believe it likely to have the desired effect and, although it is not easy to forecast the reactions of the Chinese, the available evidence tends to support the belief that Japan will be disappointed. Chinese opinion will undoubtedly be reinforced by the firm attitude of Britain and the United States and the support they are giving China.

Japan's desire to finish the war as soon as possible is due in part to her military embarrassment and in part to the recognition that her southwards expansion is hampered under the present circumstances. It may be argued at Tokio, too, that there is a time limit to the possibilities for such expansion—a limit set by developments in Europe and to an even greater degree by the speed-up in American rearmament. Another factor in the situation is the attitude of Russia. The conversations as to a non-aggression pact with Japan have so far produced no results and, although they are still proceeding, progress is slow. It would appear that the Russians are pursuing a cautious policy. Soviet support of Chiang Kai-shek continues meanwhile and Japan may fear that Moscow prefers a victory for him to Japanese domination of the Far East. Hence the desire to secure peace.

A. P. Dhanbad Dec. 11.
Mr. Makutdhari Local Congress and Labour Leader was arrested on Tuesday by Jharia Police in connection with anti-war speech and sentenced to one month rigorous imprisonment.

GROWING VOLUME OF AMERICAN AID

(By Cable) London. The Times New York Correspondent cables:

Since the first heavy bombings on London it has never been questioned in this country that Hitler was out to destroy what he had been unable to conquer. It was clear that no scruples of humanity or decency would hold his hand at any time— if indeed he is capable of any such feelings.

While all these bombings have gone on Americans have not been standing by as mere spectators, doing nothing but expressing horror and indignation against the attackers and pity and sympathy for their victims. On the contrary, they have been going to work with a furious energy to find every means possible of increasing and expediting the aid that can be sent to Britain. With their resources there is every reason to believe that the American Government will be able to supply the British with the necessary resources to carry on the war.

Significant Visit of Mr. Jayakar

Political Hopes in Delhi Will Viceroy Make a Speech?

(From our correspondent)

(By wire) - New Delhi, Dec. 12
The Viceroy leaves New Delhi on tour tomorrow and will be away from the headquarters for a month. Speculation is again rife whether during the interval he will be able to say something like the Orient Club speech of last season which may give some chance to efforts of Sir Jagadish Prasad and others for facilitating a political settlement. The visit of Mr. Jayakar, though the latter in the course of a talk prior to his departure tried to laugh away suggestions, has, it is believed, undoubted political significance. General surmise is that he has informally discussed with the Viceroy and the Liberal leaders.

He will before long get into touch with the Liberal leaders. Official circles in New Delhi prefer to remain silent for the present and have nothing even to say on feeler "thrown by London Times". The interpretation put upon the latter by political observers, however is London "Times" wants the Viceroy to make another attempt to win Mr. Jinnah's consent to the expanded council scheme by offering further 'explanation.'

His three Delhi speeches are regarded as an invitation to British Government to come to terms immediately with the Muslim League as Congress has broken away and launched an offensive, invitation is coupled with threat that if British Government yielded to Congress pressure, Muslim League will launch an offensive. This is said to explain the attitude of London "Times" and other papers, that instead of keeping silent Government should come out with an explanation and interpretation to make the old offer acceptable to non-congress bodies and more amenable sections of the Muslim League at least. According to some it is still not clear whether attempts of Sir Jagdish Prasad and others are directed towards a general political settlement with Government but are intended to rally noncongress sections for revised forms of expanded council scheme. In the meantime reports current show that unless

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, the great liberal leader, has issued a long statement in which he offers some suggestions, for resolving the Indian Crisis. To put in a nut shell he suggests that Mahatma Gandhi and Mr. Jinnah should meet immediately to discuss the present political situation in a free, open and large-hearted manner with a fixed determination to come to a settlement, that they should invite one or two leaders of the Hindu Mahasabha, the Sikhs and the Depressed classes, that they should see the Viceroy and press on him the necessity to reconstruct for the period of the war his Government so as to give it in substance the character of a National Government, that the Viceroy should be asked to appoint an Indian Defence member, that the Viceroy should be pressed to start heavy industries in India, particularly those needed for the war, and that constitutional government should immediately be restored in the Provinces.

Sir Sapru has no intention of referring to some of the features of Mr. Amery's speech delivered at the Luncheon at the English speaking Union, as he proposes later on to deal with some parts of it which call for very serious attention. Mr. Amery's speech has caused grave anxiety in the Indian mind. The internal situation in India is undergoing rapid deterioration. There is necessity and urgency of reestablishing an atmosphere of harmony and co-operation. England cannot and ought not to ignore the signs of the times. Sir Sapru says, "The sentence passed on Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru has not only attracted the attention in Parliament but is the subject of general comment nearly everywhere in India. The tragedy of the situation as he puts it is that so far as Nazism and Fascism are concerned Indian opinion has unequivocally condemned them and has expressed the hope for the victory of England and the defeat of Germany. Sir Sapru has no hesitation in saying that British statesmen are not even now. Like Mr. C. R. S. Rajagopalachari, he desires that a National Government should be formed in the true constitutional sense of the word upon the existing franchise and with important elements kept out of the legislature. Sir Sapru is for a National Government though technically responsible to the crown during the period of the war and he is certain it would command great influence and weight with the legislature as a precursor of things to come.

India very well knows how the whitehall rejected the very idea of a National Government. We have every hope that Mahatma Gandhi and Mahatma Abul Kalam Azad would be prepared to co-operate with Sir Sapru and his friends if a genuine move is made to transfer substantial power to the representatives of the people. Sir Sapru, formula is as follows:—

To reconstruct for the period of the war his government so as to give it in substance the character of a 'national government.' From a practical point of view it is entirely immaterial by what name you call it, whether you call it, a 'national government' or a national executive' or merely an 'executive council', the essence of the whole thing being that the number of non-official Indians, who command the confidence of a large sections of the people, in whose honour and judgement the country can trust, should be preponderantly large.

We hope it would be possible for Sir Sapru and his friends to persuade the Viceroy and the Secretary of State to negotiate once again with Mahatma Gandhi as Lord Irwin did in 1930 and successfully forge a pact with Mahatma Gandhi. It was Lord Willingdon that undid what Lord Irwin had patiently built up. We hope Irwin's mind and not Willingdonean mind would prevail at the White hall and New Delhi. Given a genuine mind and a sincere heart it would not be impossible to establish a National Government in India at the Centre for the period of the War, eventually to expand itself into a free and independent Sovereign Government. We wish all success to Sir Sapru and his friends in their noble efforts.

Late Lord Lothian

In the death of Lord Lothian the British Empire has lost a worthy statesman. India a staunch sympathiser of her political aspirations, and America a capable British Envoy at a critical phase of world's history. We mourn his death deeply because the noble Lord was in our midst as the guest of our Government three years ago. We recollect Lord Lothian's meeting with Mahatma and partaking the humble ashram life amidst austere surroundings. Such was Lord Lothian's love for India. At a time when delicate negotiations were going on about Britain's external needs, Lord Lothian's words, uttered in a great hall in London May 1938, still rest in peace.

TO-DAY'S War Digest

Soviets and Bulgaria.

There is an implied threat from the Russians that if Bulgaria were to grant free passage to German troops going to Greece the Soviet Union would certainly occupy the Bulgarian Black sea ports of Burgas and Varna. This is taken as a war signal from Moscow. Instead of a direct "demarche" to Berlin the Soviets have taken a round about channel to reach their objective. In between the lines of this threat one could easily read the relationship that exists between Moscow and Berlin which at all events show in which side the wind is blowing. There is no love lost between these two great countries. One wants a rapid thrust to Balkans, and the other desires to checkmate this cruel desire. But thanks to the unbending attitude of Bulgaria the Nazi designs seems to have received a check and there lies the prestige of Wilhelmstrasse. If Soviets join the tripartite pact Bulgaria too might try to affix her signature to it. But the new order in Europe lies flat unsung and unwept.

Turkey

Turkish preparations in Thrace have unnerved the Bulgarians who fear a threat in the south eastern corner of Europe. Ankara whispers that their present mobilisation is not directed against Bulgaria but nations on war nerves, are not easily satisfied at clarifications of policy. Officially the Turkish Bulgarian relations are good but inwardly the two nations fear an explosion. If Turkey keeps quiet Bulgaria need not fear. The preparations at Thrace, though professed otherwise have certainly unnerved the Bulgarians whose fear knows no bounds. The Balkan chess board is getting excited, and who knows what happens.

W. Desert

"Wavell wedge" has been driven between the Libyan troops at Sidi Barrani and the divisions supporting them to the west. In addition to the inglorious retreat of the Italians they are persistently being harassed by the British Naval Forces. Round about Sollum the enemy are receiving hammer blows. At Maktila the British have launched a severe frontal attack which proved completely successful. The Italian divisions have become disorganized, and they are having a hasty retreat towards the sea coast.

The Moscow Pilgrimage

Moscow has been the meeting place of several diplomats. Representatives of Yugoslavia, Hungary and Germany are negotiating trade agreements. There Yugoslavia wants Russia in cotton, Germany desires to show how friendly she is with the Soviet, and Hungary wants food stuffs. The Soviets are past masters in the art of diplomacy. They will make these hungry nations dance round her before she can part with her commodities.

A PUFF OF SMOKE

Here is a quotation from a presidential address of Varnashrama Swarajya Sangha Conference. The President with great gusto said,

"I am staunch believer in our Sritis, Smritis Agamas and Puranas Standing in this holy place on a holy day and before a devout audience I declare it to be my firm belief that if His Majesty's Government will regret the step they have taken by way of the assent they have given to the Temple-Entry Act and annul it and cause all the polluted temples to be purified and if the most sacred and the All-India shrine of Sri Minakshi, now deserted, will resound with its pristine purity and glory, the voices of millions of believing Hindus who crave for the triumph of justice, righteousness and freedom will be heard by Goddess Sri Minakshi and the very next minute will witness a turning point in the present war."

This is nothing but pompous nonsense. In my recent visit to Madurai, I paid my respects to Lord Sundareswaran and mother Meenakshi. I noticed tears of joy trickling down the cheeks of the two Divinities, at the happiness of having at long last, drawn panchamas to their bosom. The sanataniests would do well to stop their rant and nonsense in respect of temple entry.

Mr. E. V. Ramaswamy Naicker, Periar of Dravidistan is reported to have said "when the Congress asked for power to rule the whole country what harm was there in conceding the demands of the League the Dravidians." Conclude Mr. Naicker seems to have that Dravidians would prefer live under a Pakistan Government than under Aryan domination.

No fear: All of us are the benign Englishman Government. People like Mr. Naicker need not worry themselves about any other "stan" Government. Anyway, we do want Justicestam Government.

Sir Albion Banerjee, Dewan of Cochin and Mysore is reported to have remarked a talk to journalists.

"When compared with the very rigorous Press Regulations and censorship prevailing in England and other countries in Europe, Indians must consider themselves exceptionally fortunate in having milder laws and regulations regarding the Press."

I pass this remark to Mr. Mahadev Desai and the members of the Editors' Conference held at Delhi. Verily Sir Albion has not cast off his I.C.S. mentality.

At Ernakulam Sir Albion Banerjee seems to have said "I am much impressed with the practical realisation of cherished dream as Dewan of Cochin."

I hope he has fixed a programme for Mysore and is eagerly looking forward to his experience with regard to Mysore. Had he any cherished dream here? Or was it a case being rudely shaken out of his dream?

A Bright Future

Mr. Sadeg-Z-Shah's Speech

(From a correspondent)

Mysore Dec. 8.
"The Ayurvedic and Unani systems can have a bright future only if they come more to the light of modern thought" said Siddiq-ul-Mulk Sadeg-Z-Shah in a speech in Mysore.

The Union Day of the Government Ayurvedic and Unani College Union was celebrated on Sunday the 8th December 1940 at 5 P.M. in College Lecture Hall under the distinguished presidentship of Siddiq-ul-Mulk Sadeg-Z-Shah Saheb, Assistant Secretary on the personal staff of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

A distinguished and large gathering was present, the hall being packed to the full. The audience included Messrs. Amble Subrahmanya Iyer, Dr. T. S. Siddappa, Dr. Heiligg, Swami Desikanadaji, Mr. S. G. Sastri, Mr. F. C. Devaraj Urs, Kaviraj T. Krishna Sastry, Mr. S. B. Krishna Murthy, and Mr. Y. Chandrasekhara Sastri.

Messages wishing the function success were also received from Sir Mirza Ismail, Dewan of Mysore, Sir and Lady Todhunter, Mr. M.G. Mehri of the Electrical Secretariat, Mr. A. V. Ramana, I. G. of Police, Dr. B. K. Narayana Rao, Senior Surgeon, Mr. H. C. Javaraya, Superintendent of Government Gardens, Mr. Viswanath, General Manager, Badravathi Iron and Steel Works etc.

The Secretary presented a brief report of the Union.

Siddiq-ul-Mulk Sadeg Z. Shah, in the course of his address said: The great achievements of modern science have been adding to our knowledge immensely, and I know you are all alive to the need for co-ordinating Western knowledge with ours. But does that mean that the Ayurvedic and Unani systems have nothing to teach the Western Allopathists? Here is a quotation from a great American authority, Dr. Horace T. Poleman. 'All phases of science have had a long and independent position in Indian thinking. Medicine, Astronomy, Mathematics and Law need interpretation to the West. I mention one aspect, I was asked a number of years ago by Medical Research Scientist, there is anything in the history of Indian medicine referring to Caesarian section. As a result of my studies of death ritual in which operation has figured I was able to give him an interesting anti-quarian material which was subsequently considered important enough to be published for the scientific world. Medical science can profit from a careful study of Indian materials.'

This shows how in all phases of human experience there is not only scope but also necessity for exchange of thoughts. The alone does wisdom grow, consider it, therefore a happy augury that in your at Principal is found such an admirable combination of Eastern and Western knowledge. I am sure you will all follow in his footsteps.

'The Ayurvedic and Unani systems can have a bright future only if they come more to the light of modern thought. exponents must learn to wrest with the scientists of our day. You must go to the public arenas of other investigators for this purpose. Friendly discussion with those that differ from us are more profitable than the with persons that agree with us however, pleasant the latter is.'

Mr. G. Girimaji Rao's Proposal

Our Kolar Correspondent sends us what is purported to be a copy of a resolution tabled by Mr. G. Girimaji Rao, M.L.C. to the ensuing session of the Legislative Council.

The resolution recommends to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore to hold at an early date a Round Table Conference of all parties and of all shades of opinion, including the Mysore State Congress, with a view to bringing about a rapprochement between the Mysore Congress and the Mysore Government. We applaud the idea. This is no doubt a useful suggestion to Government. But we have to confess that we are sceptic about the outcome of such Round Table Conferences. Does not Mr. G. Girimaji Rao know what happened at the Round Table Conference held in London? These Conferences are a waste. On the other hand if Mr. Girimaji Rao is earnest about peace and harmony in the country let him persuade the Government to extend ordinary courtesies to Mysore Congress. For the time being this much is enough. Let Government reply in a courteous manner the letters written to them by Congress President. What is wanted to-day is an atmosphere of give and take, live and let live. Mysore Congress has attained a unique position in the country to-day. This organisation may have some defects incidental to all human organisations. Let us not magnify them. Let us be just and fair to Mysore Congress. We ask Mr. Girimaji Rao, is it not fair and just to remove the electoral disqualifications hanging upon some prominent congressmen? Was it fair we ask, of those Assembly members to have opposed the proposition brought forward in the Assembly recommending the withdrawal of disqualifications? We know Mr. G. Girimaji Rao well. He is well intentioned. Our request to him is, let him join us in our request to Government to remove the disqualifications and enable free election to take place. We want Mr. G. Girimaji Rao to enlist public opinion in favour of this view. It is time that mankind against Mysore Congress stops. It behooves none to pick all sorts of holes in the garments of Mysore Congressmen. All of us live in glass houses. More so public men and let us not indulge in the pastime of throwing stones at others. As Mr. G. Girimaji Rao puts it, all of us, Congressmen and non-congressmen, Officials and Non-officials should shake hands together with cordiality and friendship to one another and render our loyal services to the Mysore Throne, which is adorned by a young and progressive Maharaja, who has dedicated his life to the service of the people. Let discord and disunity give place to concord and comity, is our fervent prayer. Only very few days are left for general elections. Sands of time are fast running out. Let us not lose this golden opportunity of adopting and practising the golden rule of being fair even to our opponents.

BAD HEARTS ARE NOT WEAK

Court interludes are pleasant reading when tinged with humour, but newspapers whose duty is to present factual news may turn the scales as instanced by a Madras paper today in its presentation of a wordy description of Mr. Satyamurthi's trial. "My heart is bad", said Mr. Satyamurthy in his answer to the Magistrate's question but the resourceful Mr. Abbas Ali amended it by humorously remarking "Your heart is good but it is weak". A nice interlude indeed! So far so good. But the report in the English daily reads otherwise. "Mr. Satyamurthy gets 9 months. Weak heart "Simple imprisonment" are the glaring headlines in a prominent page of the paper. We have no quarrel with the Sub Editor who splashed these headings to please his readers but when he distorts a particular meaning, we are constrained to say that he is less than fair as a journalist. We are sure that Mr. Satyamurthy would not have described his ailments before a presiding Magistrate if he was not pressed to do so. Of late, trials under defence regulations, seem to reflect a clinical attitude in their diagnosis of ailments. We thank Mr. Abbas Ali for providing this pleasant interlude which otherwise would have been dull dreary court proceedings. We commiserate with the resourceful journalist who in his haste to splash headlines, has done some bad "subbing".

A PUFF OF SMOKE

This is a proud day in the life of Rao Bahadur Dharmatma Dharmaprakas S. Sajjana Rao. The formal ceremonial of Varanasi Varanasi Varanasi of the temple which has been built at Visveswarpuram took place yesterday. Mr. Sajjana Rao was born with a brass spoon in his mouth as most of us are. But by grace of God he has enabled his grand sons and great grand sons to be born with silver spoons in their mouth. Mr. Sajjana Rao, has earned much, but the beauty of it is he has spent much for public charities. I have often wondered how it has been possible for Mr. Sajjana Rao to earn so much. He works hard and is simple in his tastes and habits. He does not drink or does not gamble. He is not a race-goer. Even though he may roll in Rollsroyce cars he prefers to walk on his feet like a humble man in the street. In this modern age of people of small faith, it is something to have a man like Mr. Sajjana Rao amidst us who spends all his earnings in constructing a house of God and decorates it with a tower in all piety. As we may say in homely Kannada, Mr. Sajjana Rao is really Shree. May God shower his choicest blessings on him.

Mr. Satyamurthy's trial before the Presidency Magistrate reads like a romance. The courtesy that prevailed in the court hall between the Magistrate and the accused was mutual and one vied with the other in excelling in that human virtue. I was rather surprised, nay pained, to observe the unseemly and unkind presentation of the above news in a Madras daily.

I am happy to give publicity to the following.

Mr. Mahmood Hassan, a member of the Council of the All-India Muslim League, in a statement to the Press, appeals to Indian Muslims to celebrate the sixty-fourth birthday anniversary of Mr. M. A. Jinnah, President of the League, which falls on December 25, when he states, meetings should be held and resolutions should be passed for the long life of Mr. Jinnah. Mr. Hasan requests all Muslim Leagues, provincial, district and primary, to arrange for such meetings. He will all request 'Nawabzada Liaquat Ali Khan to call a meeting of the Council of the League at that day at Allahabad to afford an opportunity for members to felicitate Jinnah.

I wish to add my humble felicitations to Jinnah Saheb. If I had a Pakistan with him. Even supposing I make an offer, would he accept it? Was his reply to the sports offer of C. R.?

This is a small bit which I picked from my scrap heap. Soiled currency notes of different denominations of a total value of about Rs. 67,00,000 were brought to Madras under police escort in a special railway compartment from Trichinopoly and taken to Fort St. George, for destruction at the Currency Office.

What a waste! Rao Saheb N. Natesa Iyer, a Varnashramite, seems to have said in a speech:—

Complete independence for India, he said, was unthinkable for the present. It would mean the surrender of India to the Axis wolves and the Russian bear. He thought that Dominion Status should satisfy India.

Mr. Iyer is imaginative. He thinks of European Nations in terms of wolves, bears, and porcupines. What Zoological species would he compare India to? And what would he compare England to? We have heard England compared to a lion, and India to a milch cow. I would seek some enlightenment at the hands of Varnashramites.

The Travancore rapprochement seems to be nothing more than a nought. Mr. G. Ramachandran plaintively says "I am sorry to say that the news published is inaccurate. It is not possible for me to say anything more about what has happened." We understand. Sir C. P. is sure to issue a press statement sometime next year in the course of his annual pilgrimage to New Delhi.

TO-DAY'S War Digest

The Greek Front

The 80 mile battle front in Albania proves strong - with steady Greek push, where Italian counter-attacks are being rapidly repulsed. The Greeks continue to retain their initiative and we see splendid perseverance on the part of the advancing army. Chimmara, the Adriatic beauty spot, which lies 20 miles north of Santi Quaranta is threatened already with steady flowing Greek advance guards. The fall of Chimmara is imminent. Even in the coastal sector the Greeks are on the high road to victory. Reports have emanated that the vanguard of the Greek Army have already entered Kelyre a coastal village. The battle is being slowed down by heavy blizzards and bitter cold which is usual there and the war goes on unabated. All glory to the Greeks.

Birmingham Raid

The Nazis' have resumed their "blitz" tactics this time on Birmingham, an industrial centre in England. Six churches, eleven schools and two cinemas were hit and there was damage to houses in a number of areas. Many fires were started. Although the raid was heavy anti-aircraft barrage have prevented great havoc. The casualties are not heavy considering the scale of the attack. The King gave a visit to the raided area and comforted those who had the terrible misfortune to lose their abodes. His Majesty saw the devastated homes and congratulated a boy aged seventeen on his splendid rescue work. Among the famous buildings damaged Eton College is prominent. King Henry VI founded this 500 years ago. The famous Wembley Stadium was also hit. So far four enemy planes have been shot down and no British planes have been lost.

SIDI BARRANI EPISODE

The British have captured twenty thousand Italian prisoners - no small achievement in desert area. We echo the sentiments of Mr. Churchill who has characterized the success as a "Victory of the First Order". Indeed it is a victory which any army in the world may feel proud of. Three Italian Generals have been taken prisoners and that talks of the dash and daring the British in a desert. All glory to Britannia.

The Thailand

The Thailand - French fights in the Far East is another use in this war-ridden world. The French are pushing, once is not in sight and fight long as Hitler and Mussolini are severe. War mentality

Allahabad Busy

Peace Move By Liberal Leaders

(From our correspondent)

Allahabad, Dec. 10

Allahabad is again the scene of a peace move for ending the present political deadlock in India. Kunwar Sir Jagdish Prasad came here to consult Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru about the steps to be taken in the direction and to sound his views about participating in this move. After seeing Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru the Kunwar Sahab will again see Sir N. N. Sircar.

According to information gathered here there are two peace moves at present in the air. One has been sponsored by Sir Jagdish Prasad Sir N. N. Sircar and Mr. M. R. Jayakar and the other is that of Mr. Fazlul Huq.

Sir Tej Bahadur is not very enthusiastic about the move of Sir Jagdish Prasad according to well informed circles as he feels that Congress-Government rapprochement was not possible unless by a change in the attitude of the Government and withdrawal of satyagraha.

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru is issuing a press statement to be published on 14th December in which he sponsors his own Scheme for ending the present impasse.

Congress High Command

But according to information available at the headquarters of the Congress, here, the High Command is absolutely uninterested in the moves for all that they are worth. Maulana Azad is here and Mr. Kriplani returned to-day from Fyzabad after attending the trial of his wife there. The position of the Congress as stated by Maulana Azad is that the Congress was willing to reopen the question if the Government so wanted on the basis of the Poona resolution. Indifference of the Congress to Mr. Huq's move is due to the fact that they are unable to understand to what extent it has the support of Sir Sikander Hayat and Mr. Jinnah. Unless the Punjab Premier gives his support to the move it is not likely to receive serious consideration at the hands of the Congress.

Meanwhile the Congress President who is here is conferring with Provincial leaders on the extension of satyagraha programme. He will see the office and discuss with Mr. Kriplani about the A. I. C. C. office. The staff has already been reduced and present strength is only effective to carry on the work.

The necessity of arranging the office of the A. I. C. C. is stated to be due to the desire of the Congress President to offer himself for satyagraha after December 15 and Mr. Kriplani is to follow suit.

Political events are again reshaping and in the beginning of the next year something would perhaps crystallise. But to all intents and purposes the moves made are not likely to go a long

Sarojini Confers With Gandhiji

FUTURE PLANS DISCUSSED

A.P. Wardha, Dec. 14. Mrs. Sarojini Naidia arrived here this morning and proceeded to Sevagram immediately where her informal talks with Gandhiji will be continued in the afternoon when the future plans of Bombay Congress Committee will be discussed.

Ideal Satyagraha Method

Adopted by Mr. Pyare Lal

A.P. Wardha, Dec. 13. Mr. Mahadev Desai, Gandhiji's Secretary has issued the following statement: Considerable interest is attached to Mr. Pyarelal's satyagraha in the villages of Wardha district. Mahatma has taken extra precautions to preserve nonviolence of the movement in letter and spirit as appears from his letter to the Deputy Commissioner. "He will walk in the direction of Anje and continue until he is arrested or except for food and rest on the way. He will recite slogans in Hindustani or Marati as occasion demands. In order to show the movement is wholly nonviolent and independent of boisterous demonstrations and in order to warn the public against a repetition of recent unfortunate exhibition of indiscipline in Patna and Lahore I am avoiding usual notice to the public. I only informed Seth Jannalal Bajaj and Gopal Rao, President Provincial Congress Committee with strict instructions not to advertise the function in any way."

Mr. Pyarelal followed Gandhiji's instructions to the letter and confined himself to slogans and brief speeches explaining to villagers, and when crowds surrounded him he spoke to them only the essential and vital connection between Constructive programme and Satyagraha and appealed to them to fulfil constructive programme. He addressed three meetings in the village for which he received Mahatma's permission.

Panjab Concession

To M. L. A's in Jail.

A.P. Lahore, Dec. 14. It is understood the Panjab Government issued instructions that all M.L.A.'s convicted will be placed in A class.

PENTANGULAR CRICKET

A.P. Bombay, Dec. 14. In the first match in Pentangular Cricket tournament (where between Hindus have with drawn) between Muslims and Parsis, Parsis batting first made 107 for two wickets at lunch.

A.P. Calicut, Dec. 14. E. Kannan M.L.A. (Harijan) was sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 600 in default six months further imprisonment.

way unless the Government takes up a more generous view of the things and as in the case of Sarojini-Jayakar move comes forward with a genuine desire to help non-official agency in bringing about an understanding.

Kannan to Retire

It is reliably understood that, the most popular star of the screen, Kannan Devi has decided to retire from her Film career, after the announcement of her marriage with Ashok Moitra, the son of a prominent Brahma Samaj leader. Although she is under the contract of the New Theatres for two more years, the N. T. authorities have promised to release her after the completion of her work in Director Nitin Bose's latest picture "Lagan".

Mission of Padosi

Padosi or Neighbour, Director Shantaram's latest picture has been already completed and is expected to be released at Bombay by the end of this month. From the stills appearing in different magazines, it seems that it will have something to do with the Hindu-Muslim problem. If the stills themselves are so striking, one can safely expect in Padosi, from the hands of Shantaram, something nobler to the relations of entire humanity. If the Managers of the Prabhat Talkies mind, they can release it at Bangalore immediately after its release at Bombay. So let us wait and hope. Will our call reach them!

N. T. Stable or Unstable

After a series of failures from the New Theatres one is led to think whether N. T.'s stand is stable or unstable. The entire responsibility of its uplift depends upon Director Nitin Bose who is taking great pains to make his picture "Lagan" a real masterpiece. It includes Saigal and Kannan in the lead with R. C. Borai in charge of the Music. Nitin Bose, like Shantaram has never failed to give masterpieces, still so, when he has to carry the entire responsibility of his producers.
